

Kingston Water Sufficient Now, But—

Worst Consecutive 3-Year Drought Due

Kingston, favored with a safe water supply reserve at this point in Spring is not beyond recalling conditions in 1964 plus state reports noting that it is still within a drought stricken region.

This, says the New York State Civil Defense Commission, "is the worst consecutive three-year drought period in eastern New York State and the Hudson Valley since accurate weather records were established in 1826."

Under 40 PC
Most of the eastern region, says the commission, "has received less than 40 per cent of normal precipitation during the period from January, 1962 to January, 1965."

Last year, Cooper Lake, Kingston's main reservoir, began dropping below spillway level on May 24. It continued losing reserve through to November when supply was 18 1/2 feet below spillway level. Restriction were imposed, auxiliary intake was used and the city prepared to tap smaller reservoirs in the Zena-Woodstock area.

Fall and winter rains, however, favored the watershed with enough water to bring the supply up to capacity in early spring and Cooper Lake still remains full.

But rainfall this month, only 7.4 of an inch, to date, is less encouraging for a start of the warm months than it was last year, when the month yielded .97 of an inch, which until this month was a record low. The average for May is four inches.

Storage Still Problem
Water storage is still a problem in parts of Ulster and neighboring counties as it is elsewhere in the state.

During the first four months of this year, says the Civil Defense Commission, the eastern area has received only four-tenths of an inch of precipitation as against a normal average for the period, of 2.4 inches. This represents a deficit of 83 per cent.

The April ground water level (water table) in one eastern New York test well has dropped nine feet since 1962. Another well, with an average level in 1961 of eight feet, went dry for two months last fall.

Lakes Are Down
Gov. Rockefeller has noted that water levels in the Great Lakes bordering the state were more than two feet below normal.

As it did previously, the Civil Defense Commission, as a natural disaster coordinating agency, is prepared to assist with water supply problems. It has provided in the past three years some $250,000 worth of emergency water equipment to 55 communities, including pumps, chlorinators, portable storage tanks, purifiers, pipe and other units.

It notes that as of June 30, it will have doubled its inventory of such emergency equipment, and this $500,000 stockpile is to be available to qualified communities. It has instructed civil defense directors and government officials as to qualifications and procedure in obtaining such equipment.

Rosendale and Ellenville were given civil defense assistance last year in obtaining such emergency equipment. Woodstock and Saugerties were also among area communities with 1964 water problems. Saugerties (Continued on Page 10, Col. 3)

Meany Says That Prosperity Rests On Strong Unions

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany told Congress today state laws forbidding union-shop contracts are undermining the nation's economic and social progress.

"Prosperity rests on high wages — not on sweatshops," said the nation's chief spokesman for organized labor in urging repeal of Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act.

The repeal measure, proposed by President Johnson, would virtually wipe out laws now on the books in 19 states forbidding labor and management from joining under which all employees must join the union. Section 14B permits states to enact the laws.

Meany said such laws are peddled primarily on the inference that they will attract industry by keeping unions weak and labor costs low.

Opponents of the repeal measure, led by the National Right to Work Committee, argue that where there are union shops, some workers are forced into unions against their will. They deny unions have been weakened in the 19 states which ban the union shop.

GOP Band Has Key To Curb Vote Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — A band of undeclared Republicans held the key today to whether the Senate would vote to curb debate on President Johnson's voting-rights bill.

GOP Group Aims At $100-Million Cut in Aid Abroad

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group of House Republicans who call themselves "a minority of the minority" plan today to try to cut up to $100 million from President Johnson's $3.37-billion foreign aid authorization bill.

One of the Republicans, Rep. E. Ross Adair of Indiana, told a reporter he expects to offer at least one or perhaps two amendments in that range to give House members who oppose foreign aid spending a chance to pare the authorization.

Not Optimistic
Adair was far from optimistic about his chances of succeeding. The composition of the House has changed since two years ago when he led a successful Republican attempt to slash foreign aid by more than $500 million.

Not only do Democrats have a top-heavy majority in the House, but they can count on considerable support among Republicans who traditionally have made the foreign aid program bipartisan.

Also militating against Adair's position is President Johnson's technique of sending Congress a "barebones" foreign-aid request.

Was Policy to Ask More
Under President John F. Kennedy and prior to that, it was standard technique to ask Congress for far more in the full expectation that budget-minded congressmen would give the request a hefty cut before passing it.

Adair can count on the support of only four other Republican members of the Foreign Affairs Committee for his position. The seven other Republican members are considered non-foreign aid.

The House completed a routine four-hour debate on the bill Monday and reserved today's session for amendments. Final action is expected by tonight.

Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee, told the House foreign aid "is not a miracle vaccine that will make every country in the world immune to communism."

He conceded it has failed in some cases and been a waste of money in others. But overall, (Continued on Page 10, Col. 2)

Bolivia Junta, Tin Miners Cease Firing

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — Bolivia's military junta and its tin miners agreed Monday night to a cease-fire calling for an end to the miners' eight-day-old strike and withdrawal of troops from the mines.

The truce was signed after a battle between government forces and workers in the industrial suburbs of La Paz which continued into Monday night. At least 19 persons were killed and more than 70 wounded.

Heavy casualties were reported in mining centers south of the capital where miners tried to repel troops under government orders to occupy the state-owned mines.

The cease-fire agreement was signed by Gen. Alfredo Ovando Candia, the armed forces commander, and leaders of the Bolivian Drivers Union who have been mediating the dispute be-

M. Dirksen forecast a debate-limiting two-thirds vote that would clear the way for passage of the measure by next week.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield ventured no forecast on the vote that comes an hour after the Senate convenes at noon.

If all 100 senators vote, it will take 67 of them to invoke cloture, limiting each senator thereafter to an hour's talk on the voting-rights bill and all amendments.

Poll by AP
In an Associated Press poll, 62 senators said they would vote for cloture, 26 declared themselves opposed.

Nine of the dozen undeclared senators are Republicans. They are George D. Aiken of Vermont, Peter H. Dominick of Colorado, Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, Jack Miller of Iowa, Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota, George Murphy of California, John G. Tower of Texas and John J. Williams of Delaware.

The undeclared Democrats are Howard W. Cannon of Nevada, Albert Gore of Tennessee and Ralph W. Yarborough of Texas.

Of the 12, all but Gore and Tower, who voted against, and Murphy, who was not in the Senate, voted for cloture a year ago when the Senate for the first time limited debate on a civil-rights bill.

75 Days of Debate
That action came after 75 days of debate on a broad civil-rights measure that became law. It put a stop to a Southern filibuster and opened the way for passage eight days later.

The vote then was 71 to 29. This time, there has been plenty of talk, but not everyone agrees the extended debate can properly be labeled a filibuster. For one thing, proponents of the bill have held forth at length, debating how to register in the bill their opposition to poll taxes.

When Johnson called for legislation March 15, he asked Congress to work nights and weekends to pass the bill. That has not happened.

Would Affect States
The measure would automatically suspend state literacy tests and authorize federal registration of voters in five Southern states and part of two others. It does not name the states, but would impose the provisions in states or counties which used the tests and where voter turnout dipped below 50 per cent of the adult population in November's balloting.

The states that would be wholly affected are Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, South Carolina and Georgia. Those partly affected are North Carolina and Virginia.

Republican critics of the bill failed Monday in a bid to supplant it with a measure that would authorize federal registration in any county where 25 people showed they had been kept from the polls because of race or color.

That proposal was turned down, 49 to 29.

Radio Mendez in La Paz said representatives of the two factions will meet in the capital to widen the agreement. The broadcast said it now stipulates that:

1. The miners will call off the strike they began May 17 to protest deportation of their leader, former Vice President Juan Lechin.

2. The junta will pull its troops out of tin mines they have occupied and stop their advance on other mining centers.

Bloody rioting erupted in La Paz last week following the start of the strike, and the junta sent 17 labor leaders into exile in Paraguay to join Lechin.

Those Silver Dollars Are Not Rolling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has reversed itself and decided against issuing 45 million silver dollars.

The decision announced Monday night came just as the first silver dollars in more than 30 years were set to roll from the Denver Mint.

The Treasury is reluctant to mint silver dollars because both silver and minting facilities are needed to meet a continuing shortage of other coins and because government supplies of silver are running short.

Congress Opposes Move
President Johnson announced May 15 that substantial progress had been made in reducing the coin shortage and that he therefore was ordering minting of the cartwheels authorized last year by Congress.

In reversing this decision, the Treasury said the go-ahead order was given on the assumption that it was the intent of Congress. Since May 15, the Treasury said, members of key congressional committees have asked that the order be held up.

Robert A. Wallace, assistant secretary of the Treasury, said seven members of a House Appropriations subcommittee agreed that the coins should not be produced.

Expect Reduction Bid
A Treasury report due shortly is expected to recommend reduction or even elimination of the silver content of dimes, quarters and half dollars' dwindling stocks.

Present supply is 1.03 billion ounces — enough for more than three years at present rates of coinage. The proposed 45 million silver dollars would have consumed 38 million ounces.

Hundreds of millions of silver dollars have been issued over the years, but most have disappeared from circulation. They are popular in some Western states, but the great majority is in the hands of dealers, collectors and speculators.

The administration last year supported the silver coinage bill. It was strongly favored by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, who represents the silver-producing state of Montana and was up for re-election.

Boy Hurt in Crash

A 19-month-old boy reportedly was injured in a two-car accident on Route 32 near Sportsmen's Park, according to state police at the Lake Katrine station. They said that Joseph Machione suffered mouth cuts.

They said he was a passenger in a car operated by Joan Machione of Bloomington, which was in collision with an unknown vehicle. No other information was available.

Exam Papers Kept in Safe

UNTIL Air Force Cadet Test

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Air Force Academy instructors now keep examinations in locked safes until they are ready to test cadets, officials said today.

This appears to be the chief way in which security at the academy has been tightened in the wake of a cheating scandal which led to the resignation of 109 cadets earlier this year.

The cadet wing of about 2,500 has not been subjected to any special surveillance, it was indicated.

Officers on the faculty said in interviews that while there can be no ironclad assurance that some cheating will not recur, they believe the cadets themselves will try to make certain scandal never again is brought (Continued on Page 10, Col. 3)

9th Test Is Success For Saturn Big 'Space Bird' Sent Into Orbit

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Saturn 1 super-rocket thundered to its ninth straight successful test flight today and drilled into orbit a mammoth "space bird" satellite to climax a spectacular early morning launching.

The satellite, Pegasus 2, unfolded two giant wings to a span of 96 feet — greater than most four-engine airliners — and began swooping through space like a great bird.

It was to measure tiny meteoroids and the hazard they pose to astronauts making lengthy space trips.

To Enlist Squawk

Each time the thin, metallic skin of Pegasus 2 is penetrated by one of the streaking cosmic bullets, the satellite is to emit an electronic squawk to be recorded in a memory device and radioed to earth on command.

The 18-story-tall Saturn 1, the world's most powerful rocket, uttered a mighty roar and sent a waterfall of flame cascading over its launching pad as it flashed to life at 2:35 a.m. after a perfect countdown.

The massive first-stage power plant, a cluster of eight engines, generated 1.5 million pounds of thrust.

It was the first time that Sat- (Continued on Page 10, Col. 3)

Ahavath Israel Plans Synagogue On Lucas Avenue

Congregation Ahavath Israel this week announced an agreement to purchase a three-acre site on Lucas Avenue for the construction of a synagogue and social hall estimated to cost in excess of a quarter million dollars.

The site on Lucas Avenue is situated between Plymouth Avenue and Emerson Street. The exact dimensions of the tract will not be known until the property is surveyed.

After the land has been surveyed and found suitable, arrangements will be made for its purchase from Mr. and Mrs. Francis Cashion.

The building program will include a synagogue seating between 150 to 175 with additional seating of approximately 500 in an adjoining social hall with movable walls and stage. There will also be a kitchen, six classrooms, library, rabbi's study and bride's dressing room.

Off-street parking for 200 cars and landscaping will allow the building to blend into the residential section.

Last Thursday night the congregation voted overwhelmingly to purchase the land and start construction of the building.

In his message to those assembled, Rabbi Harry Z. Schechtman said the vote for this venture showed a forward looking and progressive spirit of the congregation which realized that the spreading idealism of Conservative Judaism has proven the best form of reaching the American Jewish people.

The building of a new synagogue will also provide facilities (Continued on Page 10, Col. 3)

Americans Pessimistic

Santo Rebels Look Toward Coalition

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican rebels were optimistic today and the Americans pessimistic about prospects for a coalition government. The junta showed no sign of giving way.

A rebel spokesman said negotiations to form a government headed by Antonio Guzman Fernandez, minister of agriculture under deposed President Juan Bosch, were "very advanced." Other rebel sources said the talks were nearing "a successful conclusion."

Settlement Dim

But a U.S. spokesman, noting strong opposition to Guzman from the junta, said prospects for a quick settlement were still dim. U.S. officials would only say that "a number of conversations have taken place and are continuing."

Sources close to the junta president, Brig. Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, said Imbert had not been consulted on the coalition government. He called in U.S. Ambassador W. Tapley Bennett Jr. and Jose A. Mora, secretary-general of the Organization of American States, to ask them for an explanation of the negotiations.

Guzman Favored
Bennett reportedly told Imbert that the United States was not trying to impose a government. However, the United States is known to favor Guzman as a compromise choice.

Imbert has been demanding that the rebels surrender and has refused to step aside in favor of a coalition. The rebel chief, Col. Francisco Caamaño Domo, has said he would resign if an agreement is reached on the coalition.

The Washington Post reported Monday night that President Johnson has ordered a team of FBI agents into the Dominican Republic to investigate the extent and nature of Communist influence in the Caribbean nation.

The newspaper said that details about these FBI activities were being kept strictly secret. It said White House spokesmen had denied that the FBI has been brought into the Dominican situation at all.

Talks to FBI Chief

"However, it is known the President personally contacted FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover last week and requested him to undertake the investigation," the report said.

The FBI said it would have no comment. There was no immediate comment from the White House.

The State Department announced that the 21,000 U.S. troops in the Dominican Republic are now under the command of the Inter-American Force formally created Sunday. Its commander is Gen. Hugo Parassos Alvim of Brazil. Lt. Gen. Bruce Palmer of the United States is deputy commander.

Besides the U.S. contingent, the Inter-American Force is made up of 1,250 Brazilians who begin arriving today and small contingents from Costa Rica.

Mt. Marion Motorist Killed Hitting Tree

A Mt. Marion motorist became Ulster County's 14th traffic fatality of the year today when the 1948 model convertible he was driving smashed head-on into a tree on the Glasco Turnpike about four miles west of Route 9W in the Town of Saugerties.

James Paul Holland, 29, of 10 Park Circle, Mt. Marion Park, was pronounced dead on arrival at Kingston Hospital shortly after the accident about 7:45 a. m. Coroner Henry S. Hartley, Saugerties, gave a verdict of accidental death due to skull fracture and other multiple injuries.

State Police at the Lake Katrine substation said that Holland was driving west on Glasco Turnpike and rounding a curve to the right when his car ran off the north side of the highway and struck a tree with the right front of the car. They said the vehicle returned to the highway and traveled 166 feet out of control, left the south side of the highway and struck another tree head-on.

Holland would have observed his birthday Friday. Troopers Carl Van Wagner and Robert Mackey and Investigator Richard Ryan of the BCI, investigated.

Holland is survived by his wife, the former Theresa Fitzgerald; two children, Ira, 7, and April, 3; his mother, Mrs. Marian Holland of Kingston.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by the Keyser Funeral Service Kingston Chapel, Albany and Manor Avenues.

Know It's Lost Cause, Is Ruby View at Hearing

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Jack Ruby told Monday how he took numerous stimulant pills before the killing presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald and then expressed fear that he and Oswald would be linked in the assassination.

"To the American people and the world . . . I'm going to be branded a part of a conspiracy with Oswald," said Ruby. "You're going to forget how I felt about the beloved President Kennedy. There has been so much torment, so much hardship."

Emotional Pauses

Ruby's discourse, wandering from topic to topic and punctuated with emotional pauses, came during a hearing in which attorney Joe Tonahill, who was on Ruby's trial defense team, was taken out of the case for Ruby's forthcoming sanity hearing.

Tonahill's removal was ordered by Judge Louis T. Holland, Montague, Tex., who said the question of Ruby's counsel would be settled by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals following the sanity hearing.

Ruby, his face pallid from over a year in jail, said he took 30 antibiotic pills and others that "stimulate you and make you want to do positive things" after awakening on Sunday, Nov. 24, 1963, the day Oswald was shot to death.

He said he brooded about the Kennedy children being fatherless but noted, "what quirked me after that I don't know. As God is my judge, that is the truth."

Sees 'Horrible Death'

Ruby repeatedly referred to "one of the most bizarre conspiracies in the history of the world" to link him to Oswald, and seemed to have lost hope of escaping the electric chair.

"I know that I am a lost cause as far as saving my life — I don't believe Joe Tonahill — I know there is a whole conspiracy behind it," Ruby said. At another point, he noted, "I walked into a trap when I walked down that ramp (into the city hall basement where he shot Oswald). I know I am going to die a horrible death."

Speaking of that Sunday, he said, "I shouldn't have tried to play the part of a hero. My background wasn't clean enough to play the part of a hero."

Volts Kept Busy

Volunteer firefighters were kept busy Monday as woodlands and fields remained parched from lack of water. Mutual Aid dispatchers from the Ulster County Fire Control reported that Port Ewen and Plattekill volunteers responded Monday to dump fires; Rosendale had a car fire; Kerhonkson was called to a chimney blaze; Milton to a grass fire and Ulster Hose No. 5 and Ellenville to brush fires.

On the ground, the Communist Viet Cong staged two more ambushes Monday night, leaving six government soldiers dead, 15 missing and four Vietnamese and one American wounded.

Outpost Is Struck by Four Craft Attackers Were MIGs or Strays

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Jet planes strafed a South Vietnamese outpost five miles from the 17th Parallel today and U.S. military spokesmen disagreed among themselves as to whether the raiders were Communist MIGs or straying American fighters.

Sped Out to Sea

Four planes hit the outpost at Gia Linh in a single pass, two shooting and two flying top cover, and then sped out to sea. Five Vietnamese were wounded, a truck was destroyed and a bulldozer was set afire.

U.S. military spokesmen at the Da Nang air base, about 100 miles from the scene, said the planes presumably were MIGs. He said, however, base intelligence officers had not finally determined what kind of aircraft was involved.

Brig. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, Vietnamese military commander of the area, said he suspected they were Communist Chinese planes.

This reported witnesses told him the raiders were black MIGs with no wing markings. Other Da Nang sources, however, denied that the raiders were black.

American military spokesmen in Saigon, 380 miles farther south told newsmen the strafing was done by four U.S. jet fighters flying off course. Both Navy and Air Force planes were involved in raids during the day on North Viet Nam.

A high U.S. authority here said Vietnamese spotted white-American — stars on the planes that hit the outpost and the initial investigation showed they fired 20mm cannon shells.

"No MIGs are armed with 20mm cannon," he said. "Our best information indicates that the planes were not enemy aircraft."

99 PC Sure

This authority said a final report will be made after further investigation of the shell fragments, but added: "We are 99 per cent sure of our initial findings."

The American report in Da Nang that the planes were presumed to be MIGs was at first denied by a U.S. official in Saigon. Later he amended his statement, saying the U.S. spokesman in Da Nang had given incorrect information. The Saigon story, however, was that the Da Nang spokesman "jumped to the conclusion."

MIGs have figured in three incidents north of the border. The Soviet-designed fighters shot down two supersonic F105 fighter-bombers from American squadrons that were bombing a bridge 65 miles south of Hanoi April 4. But American and Vietnamese fliers have spotted no hostile aircraft in recent weeks.

The attacks were under way again when the South Vietnamese outpost was hit.

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Four planes made a strafing attack on a South Vietnamese outpost just south of the border with North Viet Nam today. A Vietnamese commander said he had eyewitness reports the planes were Communist MIGs, but a U.S. military spokesman in Saigon said they were U.S. jet fighters that had strayed off course.

U.S. raids against the North continued Monday night. Two Skyhawks supported by two Crusaders from the carrier Coral Sea damaged three bridges under repair in the area between Vinh and Thanh Hoa, about 100 miles south of Hanoi. The approach to a fourth bridge was cratered, a spokesman said.

All Return Safely
The pilots reported heavy groundfire near one bridge. But no damage was reported and all four planes returned safely.

Governor Signs Bill to Boost Regents' Grants

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller today signed measures to increase the number of Regents' scholarships awarded each year and to liberalize state aid to college graduate students.

Both bills were part of an over-all Rockefeller package to raise total state spending for aid to college students from $52.3 million to $70.9 million a year. Funds for the expanded aid were included in the 1965-66 state budget.

The scholarship measure, proposed by the State Board of Regents, increases from 17,400 to 20,000 the number of Regents' scholarships awarded annually to graduating high school students. The measure aiding graduate students broadens the base for determining the financial need of the student. The income of parents and guardians, in the case of students no longer receiving support from them, will be disregarded in determining the student's need.

Under the previous law, the income of the parent or guardian was included in determining how much money the student needed.

Several graduate aid programs are liberalized by the bill. They include scholar incentive awards, Regents' College Teaching Fellowships and Regents' Fellowships for Graduate study.

In other action on education, the Senate approved 52-4, Monday and sent to the Assembly a bill to allow school districts to set up cooperative educational services that could include participation by pupils in private and parochial schools.

Proponents of the measure said such shared-time programs would not violate constitutional restrictions against aid to non-public schools.

Pays $50 Fine

Ernest Adam Roessling, 58, an Accord poultry farmer, paid a $50 fine Monday before Peace Justice Abram Smith, Town of Rochester, when he admitted a charge of operating a policy business. The charge was reduced to a misdemeanor with consent of Assistant District Attorney Francis J. Vogt. Roessling's arrest climaxed an investigation by Investigators Charles Teelon, Michael Mahoney and Michael Bonney of the Ellenville State Police BCI and Ellenville Village Police.

Demos Rebuffed By Court Panel To Delay Vote

NEW YORK (AP)—New York State Democrats, looking toward the U.S. Supreme Court today after a federal three-judge panel here stood by its order that a special legislative election be held next Nov. 2 under a Republican reapportionment plan.

The court rejected an attempt by the leaders of the Democratic-controlled Legislature to forestall a special election. The court accused the Democrats of "ineptitude and inaction" on reapportionment. It rejected a Democratic proposal for weighted voting by legislators, a system that would aid the Democrats.

Going to Harlan

Former Federal Judge Simon H. Rifkind, counsel to the legislative leaders, said he would ask U.S. Supreme Court Justice John Marshall Harlan later this week to stay the ruling. If such a stay were granted, pending an appeal to the whole Supreme Court, the election set for November probably would have to be postponed or canceled.

In addition to this legal course, the Democratic majority in the Legislature passed bills Monday they hope to use—regardless of expected vetoes by Republican Gov. Rockefeller—in an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The Democratic bills would: Extend the term of the present members of the state Senate and Assembly through 1966 and establish a system of weighted voting in which each member's voting strength would be based on the population of the district he represents.

Create a bipartisan commission to draw up a new reapportionment plan for action when the 1966 session of the Legislature meets next January. The election ordered for next November by the three-judge court would be for only one-year terms, and it would cut in half the normal two-year terms of legislators elected last November.

Outgrowth of Ruling

The current court litigation is an outgrowth of last year's Supreme Court ruling that seats in both houses of state legislatures must be apportioned substantially on the basis of population.

The reapportionment plan approved by the three-judge court—known as Plan A—provides for reapportionment based on the 1960 census. It would raise the number of Senate seats from 58 to 65 and the number of Assembly seats from 150 to 165.

Democrats contend that Plan A would work in favor of Republican candidates. The Democratic leaders have said their chances of getting the U.S. Supreme Court to reject Plan A would be better if they offered a specific alternative approved by the Legislature. This is the reason that action was pushed

End of Week Is Deadline

Benedictine Needs $160,000 More to Get Federal Funds

Attorney Ernest E. Schirmer, general campaign chairman of the Benedictine Hospital $1,000,000 Building Fund, announced that the campaign total has reached $843,049 and that the campaign office at 271 Fair Street would remain open until Friday, May 28 in order to accept pledges on many pending situations.

In a bulletin to all workers, Attorney Schirmer urged all the volunteers still holding unreported pledge cards to complete their cards and to turn them in at the final report meeting on Wednesday, May 26 at 8 p. m. in the Nursing School Auditorium.

Attorney Schirmer stated, "If all the cards now in the hands of volunteers are reported this week the gap of approximately $160,000 between the campaign total and the $1,000,000 goal will be closed." He added further, "We must reach the $1,000,000 by the end of the week in order to take advantage of the $750,000 grant from Hill-Burton Federal funds. It would be too bad to lose three-fourths of a million dollars only because of our failure to provide the $1-through on the Democratic bills in the face of the new court decision.

Rocky Weighs Bill to Clear Record of First Offenders

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller weighed today the merits of legislation to wipe out the criminal record of a first offender who had a good record after serving his sentence.

A measure granting such amnesty received final legislative approval from the Assembly Monday. The vote on the bill was 93-50.

Under terms of the bill, a person granted amnesty could lawfully reply "no" when asked by a prospective employer or public official whether he had ever been arrested, indicted or convicted.

If signed by Rockefeller, the bill would be effective March 1, 1966. Persons convicted before then also would be eligible to apply for amnesty.

The measure would set a probationary period to begin immediately with completion of sentence—five years in case of a felony, three years for a misdemeanor and a year for offenses of juvenile wrongs.

Good conduct during this time would qualify a person for amnesty.

If granted amnesty, all records of his case would be sealed "against any disclosure or inspection whatsoever," except by law-enforcement officers investigating or prosecuting a crime.

In other legislative action at the Capitol:

The Assembly approved, 125-9, a bill to allow communities throughout the state to let merchants keep stores open on Sunday if the merchants observed another day of the week as their Sabbath. The measure was sent to the Senate.

Rockefeller's proposal to crack down on loan sharks received unanimous backing in the Assembly and was sent to the Senate. The Legislature would impose stiff fines and prison sentences on persons convicted of charging more than 25 per cent interest on cash loans.

Over protests of the Senate finance committee chairman, Senators approved, 42-12, a bill to raise annual state aid for library systems from 30 to 40 cents for each resident of a community. No estimate of the cost was available.

The Assembly passed legislation to bar discrimination against women in hiring or in labor-union membership and to guarantee them the same pay if doing the same job as men. Under the measure, complaints would be addressed to the State Commission for Human Rights, which is empowered to obtain court injunctions to halt discrimination. The bill was sent to the Senate.

Assemblymen also approved a bill to establish the post of director of state parks.

Senators approved, 37-19, a measure to abolish the jobs of about 300 town welfare officers by turning over their functions to county welfare departments. The bill was dispatched to the Assembly.

Initially, the amnesty bill provided a maximum penalty of a year in jail and a $500 fine for anyone who made public the conviction of a first offender granted amnesty.

Newspapers, however, objected that it would be almost impossible to determine promptly who had been granted amnesty and who had not.

The revised bill empowers the State Commission for Human Rights to set rules to meet the purpose of the proposed law.

Six Are Nabbed By Paris Police In DeGaulle Plot

PARIS (AP) — Police today announced the arrest of six Secret Army plotters they said were part of the ring that tried to assassinate President Charles de Gaulle last August with a booby-trapped flower pot.

The police said the same gang had planned to try again with a booby-trapped statue of World War I Premier Georges Clemenceau during De Gaulle's tour of western France last week.

De Gaulle and several members of his Cabinet escaped death last Aug. 15 while attending a ceremony near Toulon during the commemoration of the World War I landings in southern France.

An ornamental flower pot at the foot of a staircase leading to a military museum had been loaded with explosives which were to be touched off by a radio signal. The fusing system failed to function.

Interior Ministry officials said today that the Secret Army gang had fashioned a new electronically controlled bomb which they planned to hide in or near a statue of Clemenceau at Sainte Hermine, in west-central France. The explosives were to have been fired as De Gaulle laid a wreath at the statue.

LANGUAGE ENRICHMENT

Though the matter is debatable, it seems to have started with the WAVES and SPARS of World War II, this game of acronyms—thinking up names for organizations, methods, things, etc., the initials of which spell words.

Ideally, but not necessarily, an acronym should be an already existing word and appropriate to the thing it stands for, and the first two—for the women of the Navy and Coast Guard—have seldom been surpassed.

CARE, the international aid organization, carried on in the tradition when peace came. The new field of electronic computers kept the game going, first with UNIVAC, then ENIAC and, inevitably, MANIAC.

Occasionally an acronym attains the supreme pinnacle of success by being decapitalized and accepted in common speech. Radar and snafu are two examples.

But these words also date from World War II. The current WASP, for White Anglo-Saxon Protestant, seems unlikely to achieve that distinction, for one reason or another.

A good recent candidate, however, is BOMFOG, just reported by the Encyclopedia Britannica. Taken from Brotherhood of Man and Fatherhood of God, it describes platitudinous political piety. In a word, bomfogery.

Sometimes, unfortunately, no matter how much the names are juggled and twisted the results are less than satisfactory.

The newly minted COIN, for Counter-Insurgency weapons, troops and tactics is not so bad, but PERT, for Program Evaluation and Technical Review, is a little too cute.

But men seem never to weary of the game of acronyms. One of the latest and most ambitious is OEDIPUS, dreamed up by a Bell Telephone Laboratories author for a computer programming system.

OEDIPUS, in case it isn't obvious, means Operating Environment with Dynamic Storage Allocation, Input-output, Public push-down list, Unhurried diagnostics and Symbolic snaps.

If this isn't the end, it ought to be very close to it.

EXHAUST CURB NEARER

The auto industry's heel-dragging in the matter of curbs on car and truck exhaust pollution of the air is beginning to reap its deserved reward. Federal law to force the industry to do what it has not chosen to do on its own is on the way to enactment. The Senate has passed a measure authorizing the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to fix standards of allowable car exhaust.

This does not assure enactment; the House must still approve, and getting its sanction of this wise step may be more difficult. But at the very least there is now some clearly discernible handwriting on the wall. It says that the industry had better do something about building cars what will not contribute so much poison to the air we must breathe.

This is not the first handwriting on the wall. California took the lead by ordering exhaust control devices on all new cars in that state. This stimulated the industry to work harder on developing methods of control. With the Senate's added nudge, even if the House does not concur in this session, the industry may now use its great resources to lick this by no means insoluble problem.

SALES TAX INFORMATION

The first in a series of informational booklets describing major provisions of the two per cent New York State sales and use tax which becomes effective August 1 is ready for distribution.

The booklet is divided into major subject areas, and broad points of the law are explained through questions and answers. General subject areas are explained and exemptions are listed where they apply. Following booklets in the series will be directed at general consumers, manufacturers and other broad groupings of consumers and vendors of taxable goods and services. Later instructions and sales tax forms will be made to approximately 650,000 vendors in New York State—those who sell goods

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

THE CONSERVATIVES AND JOHN LINDSAY

The Conservative Party of New York, a "leverage" group dedicated to keeping the Republican Party from falling into Left-wing hands, polled 122,000 votes last fall within the environs of New York City for its Senatorial candidate, Henry Paoucci. These votes could be crucial in the forthcoming contest for the mayor's job between Liberal Republican John Lindsay and Liberal Democrat Bob Wagner. The disposition of the 122,000 votes, assuming that the Conservative Party can continue to control them, has been the subject of a truly agonizing appraisal during the past few days in conservative circles.

When the Lindsay candidacy was first announced, one element in the New York City Conservative Party hierarchy argued that it would be foolish to put a third candidate in the field against Lindsay and Wagner. The rationale behind this attitude was that a contest for mayor involved housekeeping issues, not ideological considerations of Right versus Left. A slightly Machiavellian twist on this thinking had it that it might be a good thing from the conservative standpoint to get John Lindsay out of the House of Representatives in Washington, where he can do positive harm by voting with the Left on foreign policy and on high domestic spending, and into a city hall job that would engage his energies in such non-partisan matters as making a great metropolis both clean and safe for its inhabitants.

This point of view, however, seems to have been rejected by the ruling elements among the Conservatives. They frankly fear that the Liberal Republicans are mainly interested in the New York City Hall as a launching pad for State and national victories. As one important Conservative leader put it, "If Lindsay should run well, it would give great leverage to the Kuchel-Scott type of Republicanism. We've got to consider that there's more than New York City at stake here. There's Albany and the Republican 1968 convention to think about."

Even so, the Conservative Party, while it was veering toward putting up a candidate against Lindsay and Wagner, held back for a period. But when John Lindsay indicated that he would put a review board over the New York City police, this did it. Unless Lindsay changes his mind, the odds at this moment are that the Conservative Party will name its own candidate for mayor to take on both Lindsay and Wagner. The Conservatives think that "second-guessing" the police is an invitation to anarchy.

The probability of a conservative candidacy may seem of little importance to many, but in a boiling contest 122,000 votes added to or subtracted from the Lindsay total could change the political future of the nation. It is not merely Lindsay's reputation that will be riding on the result this fall. This is a fish-or-cut-bait proposition for Republican Senator Jacob Javits as well. For Javits, as Lindsay's practical manager and mentor, is putting his own great prestige as a New York City vote-getter on the line. With his own popularity among liberals and his strong roots among those who grew up on the old East Side, Javits has been able to win majority support for himself inside what is normally a heavily Democratic city. But when he rushed Ken Keating for the U. S. Senate against Bobby Kennedy last fall, he couldn't quite swing enough votes in the city to carry the day for his man. His excuse was that the Johnson coattails and the Kennedy name were insuperable obstacles, and that, all things considered, Ken Keating did very well to come as close to beating Kennedy as he did.

Next November, however, there can be no excuses. If Javits can corral the last measure of votes necessary to put Lindsay over as mayor, it would, even as the Conservative Party fears, have tremendous national significance. Javits would at once become a prime contender for the Vice Presidency. Lindsay could move on to Albany as governor, or to Washington as Senator. But if Lindsay takes a beating, both he and Javits will be in trouble.

This is why the action of a "leverage" party such as the one that is run by the Conservatives is important. As for the Liberal Party, another "leverage" group, it has had its share of Wagner patronage over the years. Could it possibly shift to Lindsay? One doubts it. And so we are left with a piquant situation, with Wagner presumably benefiting from the actions of two splinter parties that were originally designed to negate each other.

No Sure Way to Curb Locker-Room Infections

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.,
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—As a school nurse I see kids with plantar warts and athlete's foot. Since our school now has a swimming pool, what measures should be taken to prevent the spread of these infections?

A—Athlete's foot, or ringworm, and plantar warts are spread by contact with the locker-room floor and not from the water. Individual resistance appears to be the determining factor in who develops these infections. Attempts to control their spread by keeping infected pupils out of the pool have not been successful. Chemical foot baths for bathers leaving the pool have been tried but has also been shown to be useless.

Some help can be derived from having all swimmers wear their own private slippers or sandals at all times except when actually in the water. Daily cleaning and disinfection of the locker room floor is helpful. Bath towels should be boiled after each use.

Q—What causes hives? What tests are needed to make diagnosis? What is the treatment?

A—Hives are caused by allergy—usually to an article of diet or something in contact with the skin. Food allergies are determined by carefully supervised diets that eliminate one or more food-stuffs for four or five days. Contact allergies are tested by patch tests. The suspected irritant is applied to a small piece of blotting paper and held against the test area with adhesive tape for 24 hours.

Although various antihistaminic drugs will give some relief, the only satisfactory treatment is to discover the cause and avoid it.

Q—My sister was operated on for Kahler's disease. What is the cause? How serious is it? Can it be cured?

A—Kahler's disease or multiple myeloma is a disease of unknown cause. It is manifested by painful tumors in the bones and results in a severe anemia. Recent work on the treatment of this disease shows promise. NSC-1026, a drug that is still experimental, relieves the pain. Cyclophosphamide, a drug that is available with a doctor's prescription, halts the progress of the disease in some victims. Carefully regulated doses of sodium fluoride combined with calcium lactate have been used with success in others. The best results reported to date, however, have been with melphalan, a derivative of nitrogen mustard gas.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A letter from a contact in Cuba with relatives in high Castro circles says relations between Fidel Castro and his top Red theoretician Che Guevara are bad; don't be surprised if Che leaves Cuba "forever."

This letter was written in February when Guevara was on his worldwide trip which emphasized visits to Red China and Algeria. When Guevara left, his house was boarded up.

A short time back a cartoon in one of Havana's controlled papers made a play on the words Argentine (Guevara is from Argentina) and stupid.

A paper in Paris recently ran what was purported to be a statement by Guevara slapping at Fidel.

Between March 14 and this writing (two months) there has been no word of Guevara. After returning from his trip he disappeared into silence.

The U.S. Government is known to be attempting to find out where he is and what he is doing.

Guevara's child was with Fidel Castro at Cuba's May Day celebration. But Guevara was not seen.

There have been rumors he was in the Dominican Republic masterminding the attempted coup. But at this writing there has been no confirmation of these reports.

He has been rumored dead, but no facts back this up.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

I received a newspaper clipping and note from Elizabeth Green of Kerhonkson on the famous Brinckerhoff Ferry. She wrote in the note: "Thought you might be interested in this item my sister sent me from Groton, Conn. Always read your articles." It shows a handsome picture of the famous last ferry-boat with a walking beam, which ran between Poughkeepsie and Highland. It was built in 1899.

In this picture sent to me by Elizabeth Green you can see the quaint pilot houses, of which there were two, topped by huge old-fashioned range lights. It was still in ship-shape and painted in the picture she sent me. The item is from Pawcatuck, as it seems the Brinckerhoff was aground on the banks of the Pawcatuck River, after being washed ashore some years ago.

It seems there was talk of Frank Pucci of Westerly, who had acquired it sometime in 1965 to convert it into a seafood restaurant and cocktail lounge. They mention Brinckerhoff's last active service being in the Kingston - Poughkeepsie, N. Y. area in the item. Some two years ago Alex Whewell acquired it from Mystic Seaport, and some how it was not appreciated where it was, and they even went to court about it to have it removed. Mr. Whewell and Pucci had no other alternative then to call in the fire officials and burn it down to please everyone, who care not for historical items. Millions for foreign aid to countries which love us not, and not even one cent for the preservation of such items as the proud steelhulled last ferryboat with a walking beam.

The owners of the Brinckerhoff were ordered to remove the super-structure by March 25, and the entire vessel by June 1, so what could they do, being pushed on all sides but to eliminate it from the face of the earth, like the little Half Moon Replica of the Hudson-Fulton celebration, which was burned by vandals in dead of night, as it was said. This Brinckerhoff was destroyed by adult officials. It is said that Whewell and Pucci plan to remove the boilers from the vessel to lighten it. Then they will make further attempts to remove the hull. What is salvaged will be disposed of as scrap metal, they said. We Kingstonians who rode on the handsome ferry, remember its speed. Perhaps never again will such a ferry be built which will be able to take us across the Hudson.

I will put this little Brinckerhoff item and picture with the others I have from my readers. We, the people, have nothing to say, only once in a while a voice in the wilderness cuts out these items and sends them to me. That ferryboat knew something terrible was going to happen to her, as some old sailors say, that boats are like people, wasn't she lost for a while, due to bad weather. Perhaps it would have been best if she was never found and remained a mystery, like perhaps the Flying Dutchman.

Now with the warm wonderful weather which we are getting so late is here, the younger generation do not even know there is a Hudson River or Rondout Creek. To us it meant the start of the Dayline, river navigation, and we could plan to go to any cities up or down the Hudson by Boat. On Sundays, many used to take a ride across the Hudson on the Ferry, just for the ride, no smoke, no stop lights, just peace, quiet, contentment and lots of fresh air.

Federal Dictatorship Due Day Voting Rights Is Law

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — On the day the voting-rights bill becomes law, a Federal dictatorship will begin. Some states will, for all practical purposes be driven out of the Union. They will not be able—as is the privilege of all other states—to enact and enforce certain laws unless the Attorney General of the United States or perhaps subsequently a Federal court, declares that such state laws may be permitted to operate.

One provision of the pending bill specifies that certain states shall not be allowed to prescribe the qualifications for their own voters if the U. S. Attorney General determines that a "test or device" has been used during the five preceding years for purposes of discrimination in individual cases.

The phrase "test or device" is defined as any requirement that as a prerequisite for voting or registration for voting a person must "demonstrate the ability to read, write, understand, or interpret any matter, demonstrate any educational achievement, or his knowledge of any particular subject, possess good moral character, or prove his qualifications by the voucher of registered voters or members of any other class."

The Federal government, therefore, becomes the judge of whether certain state laws—although duplicating statutes existing in several other states of the Union shall be permitted to operate at all in what might be called "suspicious states."

While there is a provision for court review, the whole issue turns on the circumstance that what is lawful in one state of the Union could be adjudged unlawful in some other state—based wholly on suspicion of alleged abuse or misuse of power.

Hitherto, whenever the Constitution has been violated, the courts have been in a position to punish the guilty individuals, including state officials. But this is the first time that a whole state is to be deprived of its Constitutional right to set voter qualifications, even though these may be identical with state laws in other parts of the country which are being left untouched. The phrase "equal protection of the law" becomes a mockery so far as the Federal government is concerned.

What is happening today is reminiscent of the "red scare" of 100 years ago, when Congress disregarded the doctrine of Abraham Lincoln about an "indivisible Union," and actually expelled from the Union certain of the Southern states. The whole theory of the Lincoln administration was that there was no right of secession and that the Southern states were a part of the Union, though in rebellion. Indeed, after the war between the states was over and peace had been proclaimed between the North and the South by President Lincoln, the 13th Amendment to the Constitution—abolishing slavery—was submitted in the usual way and the legislatures of the South ratified it.

One year later, however, when the 14th Amendment was submitted and the same legislatures in the Southern states rejected it, Congress threw those Southern states out of the Union, and prescribed by law a set of conditions before they could be readmitted to the Union.

New legislatures thereupon were set up, and Federal troops were used to coerce them into "ratifying" the proposed amendment. When the required number of states, including those in the South, had voted for "ratification," Secretary of State Seward was doubtful about the legality of the process and hesitated to proclaim the amendment as having been adopted. Congress, however, by resolution, ordered him to do so anyway.

The action naturally was protested, and efforts were made to get the Supreme Court of the United States to pass on the issue of improper procedure in the "ratification" of a Constitutional amendment. But the high court declined to hear any case on this point, contending that it was a "political" matter. Not until the recent reapportionment cases did the Supreme Court consent to hear or decide what it called a "political" case.

Since the voting-rights bill which is about to become law deprives certain Southern states of the right to set voter qualifications and puts them under supervision by the U. S. Department of Justice and the courts, efforts will be made, of course, to get the Supreme Court to pass judgment on the constitutionality of such a procedure.

Meanwhile, it is surprising that so many men in Congress who are familiar with Constitutional law have hesitated to come out in the open and criticize what is being done, though privately many of them express grave doubts about the Constitutionality or the wisdom of such coercive legislation. For if the precedent is set and the Supreme Court upholds it, a Federal dictatorship can—by mere act of Congress—operate to deprive any state or group of states at any time of any rights or privileges specifically delegated to the states under the explicit words of the Constitution.

Stay Is Granted On Bruhn Ruling Of SP Promotion

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Appellate Division, third district, Monday granted a stay on a Supreme Court ruling making invalid the promotions of 251 state policemen.

The court also allowed the promoted troopers to enter the case brought by former trooper John H. Donohue of Peekskill against State Police Supt. Arthur Cornelius Jr.

In the unanimous decision, the appellate court gave the state attorney generals office and John R. Davison, who represents the 251 troopers, until July 30 to file briefs. The case would be argued in September. Supreme Court Justice Louis G. Bruhn of Kingston ruled May 6 that promotions to the rank of sergeant and lieutenant, resulting from an examination in use since Nov. 30, 1963, were invalid.

Bruhn said the examination was "not in accordance with the requirements" of the state constitution and with "judicially developed tests and standards." Donohue had the previous examination declared unconstitutional in 1961.

He charged that unfair em-

Red Cross Issues Spring Cleaning Hazard Warnings

This is the time of the year when families band together, roll up their sleeves, and make the dust clouds fly as the great American tradition of spring cleaning gets underway.

A warning about the hazards of housecleaning was issued today by Daniel Morehouse, first aid chairman for the Ulster County Chapter of the American Red Cross. "Although modern methods of cleaning have eliminated such back-breaking jobs as beating rugs, there are still many dangers connected with this annual job," Morehouse said. "I don't suggest that housecleaning be eliminated, just that the housecleaning hazards be dealt with, particularly those that endanger the lives of children," he said. Morehouse pointed out that more children between the ages of one and 15 die from accidents each year than any other cause, adding that most of these accidents happen in the home and can be prevented.

Cleaning fluids rank high as hazards—if they are not used as directed on their containers. Many of the fluids are flammable and directions for use stress the importance of good ventilation where used. In addition to warning about improper use, Morehouse also warns mothers to keep the fluids away from small children who are inclined to taste almost anything they see.

Keeping the rooms well ventilated while cleaning may also lead to small children's accidental falls from windows ordinarily closed or protected by screens. The use of hot water for cleaning often means leaving buckets or large pans of water on the floor where a small child may fall into it and be scalded, injured by strong cleaning agents, or even drowned, he said. Pans, pails, brushes, and other cleaning equipment should not be placed in unexpected places where adults may trip or fall over them.

With most cleaning comes the inevitable rubbish pile which is a perfect spot for fire, particularly if the refuse contains cleaning rags discarded after being used with turpentine, paint, or other flammable fluids.

As a last work, the first aid chairman warned against overworking or overstraining while moving heavy furniture. He suggested that any person, man or woman, who has never had a free Red Cross first aid course should call the Ulster County Red Cross Chapter, 308 Clinton Avenue, and register for the next available first aid course. A few hours spent in a class might result in adding years to the lifetime of a person injured or stricken. Women especially should know first aid and mouth-to-mouth respiration methods as they are most likely to be with children who are injured either

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, May 25, the 145th day of 1965. There are 220 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1787, the first regular session of the Constitutional Convention met at Philadelphia—nominally to amend the old articles of confederation but, as it turned out, really to frame the Constitution we have today.

On this date In 1803, author-philosopher Ralph Waldo Emerson was born in Boston.

In 1862, Gen. Stonewall Jackson and his confederate troops defeated federal forces at Winchester, Va., ending a union threat to the Shenandoah Valley.

In 1887, Yale College became a university.

In 1942, Gen. Joseph (Vinegar) Joe Stilwell arrived in New Delhi, India, from his epic retreat from Burma.

In 1943, British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and President Franklin D. Roosevelt held a joint news conference in Washington.

Ten years ago — A tornado demolished Udall, Kan., leaving 80 persons dead; another tornado hit Blackwell, Okla., killing 18.

Five years ago — President Dwight D. Eisenhower reported on the U2 plane incident and the failure of the summit conference in a nationwide radio-television appearance.

One year ago — The Supreme Court ruled that the Constitution does not permit the abolition of public schools in one county of a state while they remain open in other counties—a decision affecting Prince Edward County, Va.

Paricutin, a volcano about 200 miles west of Mexico City, first appeared in a cornfield in February 1943. Within six days it was 500 feet high and by 1961 it had had risen 2,120 feet.

Suited Themselves

A Look at How Presidents Used or Did Not Use Arms

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman didn't, President Eisenhower did and President Johnson did and didn't.

That's the mixed-up picture of how presidents down through American history used the armed forces, sometimes with and sometimes without congressional approval, even when it meant war.

The Constitution gives Congress alone the power to declare war but it says the president is commander in chief of Army and Navy. It neglects to say whether he needs a go-ahead from Congress before using them.

So the presidents, depending on the man and the circumstances, have suited themselves.

Didn't Ask Congress

Presidents Jefferson, McKinley and Wilson are three examples of men who didn't ask the blessing of Congress when they thought it necessary to act. Jefferson sent the Navy into action in the undeclared war against the Barbary pirates in 1801.

In 1900, McKinley sent 2,500 U.S. troops, along with about 16,000 from European countries, into China against fanatical Chinese, principally a group called the "Boxers," who were slaughtering foreigners and wanted to drive out the rest.

Wilson in 1914 sent the armed forces to capture Vera Cruz in Mexico.

When the North Korean Communists attacked South Korea in 1950, Truman sent in the armed forces without ever asking or getting specific congressional approval. Yet, this was a real war.

Actually, half an hour before he announced his action he called congressional leaders to the White House, told them the decision he had made and got their hearty endorsement.

For all practical purposes Congress did give him official approval for the war in the various measures it voted, like money, extending the draft and so on.

Election Charge

Nevertheless, as the fighting

went on and the 1952 presidential campaign drew near, Republicans called it "Truman's war," a charge he might have avoided if he had pinned Congress down to specific approval. Eisenhower, not faced with the same kind of emergency as Truman, made use of the time to get ready and in January 1955, asked and got from Congress approval for whatever action he might take to defend Formosa from Red Chinese attack.

But in 1957 he was looking ahead a year when he asked Congress for authority to use the armed forces to protect the Middle East from Communist aggression.

(Like other presidents before him Eisenhower could have used the forces when the time came, without this authorization, but by doing it this way he had a national endorsement for what he might do later.)

Ike's Doctrine

It took Eisenhower three months to get approval from both houses of Congress but, once he had it, it became known as the Eisenhower "doctrine" although he didn't have to use it until 1958.

Then, when Lebanon, friendly to the West, seemed in danger from communism or Egypt, Eisenhower sent the fleet there and put troops ashore.

Johnson sought congressional endorsement for the action he has taken in Viet Nam but not in the Dominican Republic. Last August, when North Vietnamese PT boats attacked U.S. destroyers in the Gulf of Tonkin, he asked and got from Congress a blank check to do what he thought necessary. At that time he didn't do much.

Action in Viet Nam

He ordered the bombing of some North Vietnamese naval bases. But he used the blank check in full when Viet Cong guerrillas in South Viet Nam last February blasted a U.S. air base with mortar fire.

Johnson ordered the bombing of North Viet Nam and that has been going on since, with a pause of only six days to see if the Communists wanted to talk peace. When they didn't, the bombing was resumed. Meanwhile, Johnson sent in Marines.

The congressional approval he got beforehand was very broad. It authorized "all necessary measures" to "prevent further aggression."

But when Johnson sent Marines into the Dominican Republic last month — explaining first it was to save American lives and then to stop a Communist takeover — he sought no formal nod from Congress.

He simply called some key members of Congress to the White House to explain his action before announcing it to the nation.

TV Reviews, Best Bets

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS News must be rated "excellent" for its intentions and originality in Monday night's "National Drivers Test." But its score for execution of the program is that of the average driver who took the quiz — somewhere between "fair" and "poor."

Some of the photography was so fuzzy and badly lighted that viewers with small television screens could not distinguish the road hazards they were supposed to identify. Phraseology of some questions was involved and tricky.

This test taker feels that the poor average showing of drivers in CBS' studio audiences in four cities — a score of 51 out of a possible 80 — was more the result of the program's presentation than inadequacies of the drivers.

CBS also could have dispensed with the on-the-spot sampling of the audience with the aid of computers which distracted from the primary interest of the viewer in testing his own driving skills.

It was, however, an interesting beginning of something new. And if it helps to reduce the annual toll of lives in automobile accidents, it will have been the most important television program of the year.

NBC turned up in a close race as the winner of the most recent Nielsen ratings. The averages achieved for the two weeks ending May 9 were NBC, 17.4; CBS, 17.2; and ABC, 16.2. The numbers indicate that television viewing already has begun its annual warm-weather decline.

"Bonanza," "Gomer Pyle" and "Bewitched," as usual, headed Nielsen's top 10 listing, followed by "Peyton Place" (Thursday nights), Andy Griffith, "Peyton Place" (Tuesday), Red Skelton, "Beverly Hillsbillies," "Lorne Greene's American West," and "The Lucy Show."

Barbra Streisand's CBS special, one of the most talked-about and highly-praised special shows of the season, wound up in 16th place.

There were 258 bakeries in the city of Rome, Italy as early as 100 B.C., according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Vapor Trails Missing

Chinese Air Travel Is Still Done in Thunder of Pistons

EDITOR'S NOTE — On a tour of Communist China, the chief of the Southam news services in Canada is making his dispatches available to The Associated Press. U. S. reporters are barred from Red China.

By CHARLES LYNCH

PEKING (AP)—You leave the jet set behind you when you travel inside China on the Chinese People's Airline. It's back to the thunder of pistons and the popping of ears.

Airports are close to downtown, in the old style—the drive from the hotel in Harbin to the local airstrip took only five minutes. There seem to be few planes flying in China at any time—to the Western eye the skies seem empty and quiet, devoid of the vapor trails that have become part of the North American and European skylines. In China, the travel route for the masses is by train. Planes are special, and interurban travel by car is virtually unknown.

At Harbin, the only other planes on the field were three old DCs and a couple of Russian-built single-engine biplanes. Pilot and copilot looked more like locomotive engineers than airmen, wearing the eternal blue cloth caps and plain blue coveralls that are the mark of the men of Mao.

You clatter away into the air, surrounded by baggage carried in the cabin along with the passengers and assorted items of freight. Spring winds were blowing their hardest and it was a bumpy passage southward to Changchun.

At Changchun, the temperature had dropped and there was a freezing one-hour stopover in the terminal, with only lashings of tea to stave off the cold. Military planes were parked on the tarmac in a long row, engines and cockpits swathed in quilted covers.

Lunch was served in the form of that rare Chinese delicacy, the sea slug. A plate of sea slugs appeals to the Chinese the way a thick steak appeals to the Westerner—lovely little snail-like creatures they are, all slimy and spiny, wallowing in their goo.

A bumpy landing at Peking and the flight was accomplished—six hours for some 600 miles. The only other plane on the Peking tarmac was a Viscount, used by the Chinese People's Airline on the run south from Peking to Canton. There are no jets—the Peking airport, even though it is about 30 miles from town, isn't big enough to take them.

At the conclusion of the journey, two resolutions for travel in China: go by train whenever possible, and no sea slugs.

MDTA TRAINING CLASS—Loryne Connick, supervisor, instructs trainees in the current Manpower Development Training Act stenographic course for the unemployed at School No. 4. Among those participating in the program sponsored jointly by the Kingston Board of Education, State Employment Service, State Manpower Training Bureau and the State Education Department, are Peg Lodge, Judy Ferran, Ger-

Courses Train Unemployed For Office Opportunities

School 4 on Lindsley Avenue is humming with activity these days, as trainees participate in a course for the unemployed.

The courses, financed entirely through federal aid, are conducted by the Kingston Board of Education, cooperating with the State Employment Service, the State Manpower Training Bureau, and the State Education Department.

Loryne Connick, head of business education for the Kingston Schools, is the overall supervisor of the program, which is proving popular with the unemployed. Mrs. Susanne Rook is the instructor.

The students attend school from 8:30 a. m. to 3 p. m. The classes are operated as nearly as possible to the exact procedures of an actual office.

Takes 33 Weeks

Twenty-five students can be accommodated in the class in stenography and office machines, which is conducted on a basis of 990 hours total time, a period of 33 weeks. During this time students are trained to take dictation, transcribe notes efficiently and accurately, type letters and business forms, with considerable emphasis on English, spelling, and punctuation.

In addition to stenography, instruction is given on the following business machines: rotary calculators, ten key adding machines, ten key calculators, transcribing equipment, inter-office duplicating equipment and three models of electric typewriters, the Model C, Selectric, and Executive. The equipment used by these future stenographers is the most modern equipment available in the business field. The machines used in this program are based on a survey of the area.

This section of MDTA stenography will be completed on Aug. 7. There have been two previous classes which have had a successful record. A new class will be formed to open in October. Twenty-five students can be accommodated in the new course. Anyone who wishes to attain a skill may contact the New York State Employment Service, Pine Grove Avenue, immediately.

Substance Allowances

In certain cases, learners are paid a substance allowance while attending school. This is determined by the New York State Employment Service.

Upon completion of this course the qualified graduates will have passed the Civil Service Test making them eligible for local, county and state employment. All who graduate will have a diploma and a wallet sized card certifying them as a graduate. The course of study and standards are established by the New York State Education Department, under the supervision of Raymond Light. The trainees are required to meet the qualification requirements of the most exacting offices.

Employment for Graduates

The New York State Employment Service and the placement bureau of the local school system will help graduates obtain employment. Mr. Connick places these people on his follow up program at the high school for a period of five years. Any employers interested may contact him.

Applicants for the course should make known their interest in registering for the training program immediately to the New York State Employment Service on Pine Grove Avenue.

wounded and seven were listed as missing. Viet Cong losses were not known.

Run Into Road Trap

On Route 19 about 250 miles north of Saigon, a government convoy ran into a Viet Cong road trap. In the battle that followed, three Vietnamese and one American were wounded. Eight Vietnamese were listed as missing. There was no word of Communist losses.

The town of Cang Long in the Mekong Delta south of Saigon came under mortar fire Monday night, a spokesman said, and two government soldiers were wounded.

Heavy fire echoed on the outskirts of Saigon during the night as government artillery pounded suspected Viet Cong targets near Nha Be south of the capital.

On the political front, Premier Phan Huy Quat announced a long-awaited reshuffle of his Cabinet at a meeting of the National Legislative Council.

Earlier reports said the last two military men in the Cabinet would be replaced, but only one went out. He was Maj. Gen. Linh Quanh Lien, who was replaced as information minister by Dinh Trinh Chinh, a Saigon lawyer.

The most important military member of the Cabinet, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, continued as deputy premier and defense minister.

Goldberg to Talk For Kerhonkson, Accord Ceremony

Philip Korn, chairman of the Kerhonkson-Accord Memorial Day exercises, has announced that Maurice Goldberg, former Assistant Attorney General of the State of New York and a candidate for the Republican Party nomination for Surrogate of Ulster County in the coming election, will be the principal speaker.

The annual Memorial Day Exercises will begin at the Kerhonkson Square at 10:30 a. m. Monday, May 31. The grand marshal will be Judge Herbert Poppe. The Memorial Day program will be preceded by a short parade through the village. Units marching in the parade will include veterans and present members of the armed forces, troops of the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Brownies, the Kerhonkson and Accord Fire Companies, Ladies' Auxiliaries of the Kerhonkson and Accord Fire Companies, Kerhonkson Lions Club and other civic organizations.

Upon completion of the Memorial Day Exercises at Kerhonkson, all the units and guest speaker will immediately travel to Accord to conduct the exercises in the Accord Town Square.

As assistant attorney general, Goldberg for many years was in charge of all trials and claims against the State of New York in Ulster County and its four neighboring counties. He has since been designated by the Attorney General as Special Deputy Attorney General in charge of all election matters for Ulster County on every election and primary day.

A popular speaker in this area, he has recently lectured throughout the county on "Reapportionment" to service and political organizations, to the Legislative Committee of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors and the Problems of Democracy classes at Kingston High School. He also spoke extensively on behalf of the Attorney General on "Consumer Frauds" and other subjects. Goldberg is a practicing lawyer in Kingston and is active in civic, cultural and political affairs throughout the county and state.

Goldberg is chairman of the Board of Education and a trustee of Temple Emanuel in Kingston; a vice chairman of the Zephaniah Lodge of B'nai B'rith. He is a member of the Woodstock Republican Club, the Ulster County Young Republican Club; the Ontario Central Schools Advisory Committee; the New York State and Ulster County Bar Associations; Roundout Lodge 348, F&AM; the Woodstock Square Club; the Roundout Fellowship Club; United Jewish Welfare Fund; Cabinet; the Wittenberg Sportsman's Club and many other organizations. WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate clamped a tight time limit today on further debate on the voting rights bill urged by President Johnson. The action was regarded as assuring the measure's early passage.

The vote to put the Senate's closure or debating-closing time into effect was 70 for and 30 against. This was three more than the required two-thirds majority.

Announce Leaders Of Fund Drive For Mental Health

William H. van Benschoten, Ulster County chairman for the campaign for funds, reports that a number of local business, professional and community leaders are assisting in the current campaign for mental health in Ulster County.

Co-chairman of the Business and Industry Division are Paul Coon, manager of the Governor Clinton Hotel; Leroy Griggs, manager of Parson's Ford of Kingston, and C. Kenneth Taber, manager of the Federal Land Bank Association of Kingston, and assistant manager of the Farmer's Production Credit Association. The above named have already contacted by letter over 300 businesses and corporations in Ulster County. The response to date has been very satisfactory; many of the businesses who have given regularly over the past three or four years have already sent in their contributions; and many more are hoped for and are urgently needed.

Van Benschoten also reports that there are three co-chairmen for the professional division. Dr. Edward F. Shea, Kingston physician, and well-known for his untiring efforts for mental health in Ulster County, has contacted all the physicians in the county, seeking their support in the current campaign.

Dr. Jeremiah Sachs is heading the solicitation of dental surgeons in the county, and H. Clark Bell Jr., is heading the solicitation of the legal profession.

William J. Mathews, sales manager for WGHQ is chairman of the residential campaign in Kingston. Assisting in this door-to-door solicitation in the city are members of the Key Club and Prisma Club of Kingston High School, and the Tri-Hi Club of the YWCA in Kingston, as well as many other persons. According to Mathews, they are all doing a wonderful job.

Mrs. Fred C. Begelspiker, of Gardiner, is chairman of the organization's drive. Response to her letter to over 250 service and civic groups throughout the county has been encouraging. Van Benschoten said that the way in which so many of the smaller organizations all over the county have responded is an indication of how much the work of the Ulster County Association for Mental Health is becoming known and valued.

"We hope these different approaches will reach every level of our community to enlist their support of our work. We want everyone to know what our local association for mental health is doing towards promoting mental health and working for coordinated and adequate facilities in our county for the care and treatment of all forms of emotional and mental sickness, and for the mentally handicapped," concluded van Benschoten.

Persons who have not been solicited and who would like to send a contribution, are asked to send this, however small—and large also—to Mrs. Diana M. Geiger, executive secretary, Ulster County Association for Mental Health, 27 East O'Reilly Street.

SCHOOL PRESS WINNERS—Among the five Ulster County schools who were honored last week in the national 28th Annual School Press competition were (front row) William Bradley, editor of the Bennett Elementary School's Bennett Banner; Marc Greenwald, editor-in-chief of George Washington School's Cherry Tree and Dennis Weiss, editor of School 7's Chatterbox. Rear, Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, who made the awards, and chairman of the Ulster County TB and Health Association's Tuberculosis-Respiratory disease education committee; Richard Swart, editor of Saugerties High School's Bluestone Sentinel and Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb Sr., association president. Not present for the picture was Conrad Lorete, editor of Highland High School's Highland Fling. (Farber photo)

Certificates Given To School Editors

Five Ulster County Schools were awarded national 28th Annual School Press Project Certificates of Honor in special ceremonies to commemorate this exceptional county award record at the annual meeting of the Ulster County TB and Health Association, held at its headquarters, 124 Green Street, last week. The awards were made by Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, chairman of the Association Tuberculosis-Respiratory Education Committee. The award program was introduced by Frederic W. Holcomb Sr., association president.

Those Honored

The local school papers receiving this honor were: Bennett Banner, Reginald R. Bennett Elementary School, Ontario System; The Chatterbox, Elementary School No. 7, Kingston Consolidated; The Cherry Tree, George Washington Elementary School, Kingston Consolidated; The Highland Fling, Highland School and The Bluestone Sentinel, Saugerties High School, Saugerties Central.

The School Press Project is sponsored nationally by the National Tuberculosis Association, the national affiliate of the Ulster County TB group, and by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, has been sponsored in Ulster County since 1951 by the TB and Health Association. Dr. Schwartz pointed out. The purpose of the School Press Project is to disseminate correct, current health information, and effectively to alert youth to its own serious responsibility for its own health and the health of the community. This special press program encourages young journalism, and encourages good citizenship and civic interest. Since 1951 our Association has judged 67 original Ulster County school paper entries locally, has submitted 30 of these to the State judging. Of these 24 have moved up to National level and in that time, a total of 16 national certificates of Honor have been won by these Ulster County school entries. This is clearly a high record of achievement, Dr. Schwartz said.

"We are all gratified to point out, however, that our 28th Annual School Press Project here in Ulster County has established a new level of proficiency. Our TB Association received six original school paper entries for local judging, five of which were submitted to the State judging board. All five of these passed the State deliberations and all five won Honor Certificates from the National judging committee," he added.

E. Robert Johnson, coordinator of the Ulster County School Press Project observed that the project record for Ulster County was exceptional also by comparison of state participation. "New York State Press Project entries totaled 21," he noted. "The National judges selected nine of these New York entries for their outstanding merit as Certificate recipients. We are impressed with the point that five of nine New York State winners were our own Ulster County participants."

The award to the Bennett Banner was accepted by Student Editor, William Bradley and Assistant Editor David Lee. Ronald Vanni, principal, and Mrs. Emma Arguevich, faculty advisor were introduced. Dr. Schwartz pointed out that this paper also had been a National School Press Certificate winner in 1963.

Dennis Weiss, student editor, and Karen Newman, assistant editor, received the National Award on behalf of The Chatterbox, School No. 7. Mrs. Frieda Dingee, principal, and Mrs. Dorothy Organtini, faculty advisor also were introduced. The Chatterbox had won the award previously in 1954, 1956 and 1957.

"The Cherry Tree", George Washington Elementary School, previously had Certificate of Honor Awards in the 1953, 1956, 1959 and 1961 School Press Projects. Dr. Schwartz made the 1964 National Award to Marc Greenwald, Editor-in-Chief and Elise Brigham, publicity and distribution while Ambrose J. Boyd, principal and Maud Bunting, faculty advisor looked on.

"Here is a school paper recently established that has proved its ability by becoming a winning on its first entry," Dr. Schwartz noted in presenting the honor certificate to Richard Swart, editor, representing The Blue Stone Sentinel, published by the students of Saugerties High School. Also present for the award were Mrs. Sylvia Kramer and Gordon Fyhr, faculty advisor and assistant advisor respectively of this new school publication.

Since "The Highland Fling" representatives were unable to attend the special award ceremonies, their National Award will be made later to Conrad Lorete, Ed and Michael Mozetti, co-editor and the paper's faculty advisor, Robert Wattles.

Robert D. Ragsdale, executive director of the New York State TB-RD Association wrote Johnson: "This is a particularly fine record. No other county had all of its entries submitted for the national competition. Please congratulate the schools for our association and accept congratulations yourself for the success of your efforts in the National School Press Project. A really fine job done."

The NTA Newsletter has announced that many of the award-winning student newspapers will be seen at the NTA annual meeting in Chicago. "Student Editors and reporters displayed excellent journalistic skills," Johnson commended the local schools for their interest and on the high quality of their work. "The research, assimilation of the facts, the means of expression and format used, all are outstanding." "Everyone of these entries had to pass the rigid review of seasoned newspapermen, magazine writers, school newspaper faculty advisors, public relations people and medical writers, along with our own local, state and national TB Association staff. No winner therefore was an easy winner."

Dr. Holcomb encouraged all established Ulster County school publications to contact Johnson, the Association's executive director at TB and Health headquarters at 14 Green Street, and to register for the 1965 School Press Project. "The National School Press Project and its now coveted Certificate of Honor Award has become a top form of national journalistic recognition available to our outstanding school papers, and to our capable student journalists," Dr. Holcomb added. "We have seen the calibre of school papers in our county well-proven and recognize the outstanding involvement and personal involvement also reflected by our faculty and administrators who also have taken part in our award ceremony. We believe that the school papers for the project no later than late fall, will further reflect the goals of good health and outstanding journalism, and will produce national award recipients for Ulster County again in 1965."

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By JIM GILPATRIC

National attention centers at the shrine of the Unknown Soldier's tomb in Arlington National Cemetery on Memorial Day. Sentimentalist or not, if you ever saw or see the traditional service, you would have or see moist eyes, quivering lips, a tightening of the throat in reverent silence. And, with humility before God, so it should be.

The story behind the story of the Unknown Soldier is drama without equal on any stage. The drama starts first with New York Congressman Hamilton Fish introducing a House Joint Resolution to have an unidentified, killed in action American Soldier returned from France for reinterment at Arlington. "The drama continues with Admiral Dewey's famous Flagship "Olympia" commissioned to return the body to America with Marine Corps escort. In story book manner, the drama relates the care with which anonymity was made certain of; how the selection was made; how an ordinary American, a Chicago orphan, as a Sergeant in France was chosen and ordered to walk into a room and place a bouquet of roses on one of four unidentified caskets; how Sergeant Younker placed the bouquet and thus made a selection which he later described as God's choice.

The tomb of the Unknown Soldier is more than a symbol of sentiment. It is an American voice which gives thanks to the glory of God that we as Americans, can and do respect the honor and memory of our departed ones, soldiers and civilians alike . . .

Sometimes It's Just WaitingWar Can Be Boring as It Is for Hawk Missile Unit

By HAL BOYLE

HILL 327, South Viet Nam (AP)—They keep a lonely vigil on a hot and dusty hill for a meeting with the enemy that may never come.

They are the four officers and 87 enlisted men of a U.S. Marines Hawk missile battery. They are learning the hard way that war more often is boring and monotonous than dangerous or exciting, and that the thing you do most in any war is simply to wait.

The job they have to do is to knock out of the sky with their ground-to-air missiles any enemy planes that threaten the huge Da Nang air base.

The men have great confidence in their weapon. In training for their present mission they found the Hawks effective in bringing down drone aircraft used as targets at their base on Okinawa.

"They'll knock the hell out of anything that can be sent against us over here," said the battery commander, Capt. Everett Cowley, 33, Quincy, Mass.

The battery, whose theme song is "On Top of Old Dusty," is emplaced on the flat peak of one of the highest hills in the Da Nang area. The road up it is one long river of hubcap-deep dust.

It isn't that way all year round, however. When the rainy season starts the road will become a river of mud.

The view from the top of Hill 327, where the long slender Hawk missiles nest in their launchers like poised hornets, is hauntingly beautiful. In one direction stretches the watery waste of the South China Sea over which white cloud towers float in slow and timeless majesty. Between the sea and the base of the hill lie the city of Da Nang and its vital air base.

In the other direction lie a valley and rugged hills from whose green hell Marine patrols are tortuously and painstakingly flushing the tenacious Viet Cong. The loveliness of the hills hides the menace of the ambushing enemy.

The battery's position conceivably is vulnerable to mortar attack. It is girded by sandbags and barbed wire and a company of Marine infantrymen. But the missilemen themselves also pull sentry duty, man outpost holes, and pile up more sandbag barricades.

The heart of the battery is its small, well-hidden command central. The darkened room is air-conditioned not so much for the comfort of the men as to protect the radar and electronic equipment with which the missilemen keep a day and night watch of the sky.

I asked Capt. Cowley if his men had had many interesting experiences. He smiled wryly and said:

"Well, once we saw a king cobra snake, and in six weeks we have piled up 50,000 sandbags. This job isn't romantic — just scenic and necessary. We do feel that if the enemy does try to fly against us here we'll bring him down here."

Lack of Pathet
Drive Has Laos
Officials Puzzled

By RENE-GEORGES INAGAKI

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—With about two weeks to go before monsoon rains drop the curtain on major military activity in Laos, U.S. and Laotian officials are wondering what happened to the annual Pathet Lao offensive.

The absence of a significant Communist push in Laos so far has puzzled many here. Normally, the Pathet Lao and their North Vietnamese allies unleash attacks just a few weeks before the rainy season to grab some important piece of territory. After the monsoons start it is practically impossible for government forces to mount a counterattack.

Last year, this tactic gained the Communists virtually the entire Plaine des Jarres and bottled up neutralist forces of Gen. Kong Le. He lost almost all of his 40 Soviet-built tanks in the retreat.

Western officials here have speculated that the absence of a Communist spring offensive this year might be attributable to these factors:

1.—The Communists already have secured the territory that is of importance to them now. These are areas adjacent to Communist China, North Viet Nam and South Viet Nam, for the needed corridor to South Viet Nam.

2.—A big offensive would embarrass the Soviet Union, which is co-chairman of the Geneva conference, and Poland, which is a member of the three-nation International Control Commission.

3.—The Communists believe in ultimate victory in South Viet Nam and presumably think that when this victory is achieved, Laos will be scooped up automatically.

In addition to these considerations, the U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam and Laotian air force bombings in Laos made a buildup of troops and logistic supply from North Viet Nam extremely difficult.

Assembly Favors Senate Group Is Called to Act On Ethics Bill

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Legislature's long battle over tightening the code of ethics for its members and employees moved to the Senate today.

The Assembly reversed itself Monday and voted overwhelmingly for a tougher code.

The Senate Finance Committee was called into session today to decide whether to report ethics legislation to the floor for a vote.

Intensifies Pressure
The Assembly vote of 110-36 intensified pressure on the committee and on the Senate to approve the same bill.

A favorable vote by the Finance Committee would clear the way for final legislative action later this week.

The controversy over outside business activity by legislators arose more than a year ago with the publication of newspaper articles about possible conflicts of interest between the public and private activities of some legislators.

Backers of the tighter ethics code held that the Legislature owed it to the public to guarantee that there would be no conflicts.

The key section of the bill approved by the Assembly would prohibit lawyers-legislators from appearing, for a fee, before the State Court of Claims and most state agencies.

The action on the ethics bill was the highlight as the Legislature began a new week. These were other developments:

Other Developments
—The Democratic majorities in both houses passed and sent to Republican Gov. Rockefeller bills designed to help prevent a special legislative election this November.

—The Assembly gave final legislative approval to a bill under which amnesty would be given to first offenders who served a blameless probationary period after completing their sentence. Their criminal records would be annulled.

—The Assembly gave final legislative approval to a bill to require that all packages of cigarettes sold in the state bear the label "Excessive Use Is Dangerous To Health."

After approving the tighter code of ethics, the Assembly then killed, 82-50, a companion bill to establish a seven-member commission to issue advisory opinions on individual questions of whether there would be a conflict of interest.

Critics claimed the bill was unnecessary in view of the existence of separate Assembly and Senate committees charged with that job.

The main ethics bill was defeated, 73-71, when it first came up in the Assembly three weeks ago.

The sponsor, Daniel M. Kelly, D-Manhattan, revived it and set out to win over opponents.

In addition to limiting activity of lawyer-legislators in cases dealing with the state, the measure would require law-makers to make fuller disclosure of holdings in businesses regulated by the state and would set a stricter ban on acceptance of gifts.

Rejects Amendments
Before acting on the main bill, the Assembly rejected several proposed amendments to either tighten or ease it.

Those who voted against the measure included Assembly Minority Leader George Ingalls, R-Binghamton, who said that voters could judge a legislator's conduct if he disclosed, or the public was aware of, his financial interests. Ingalls argued.

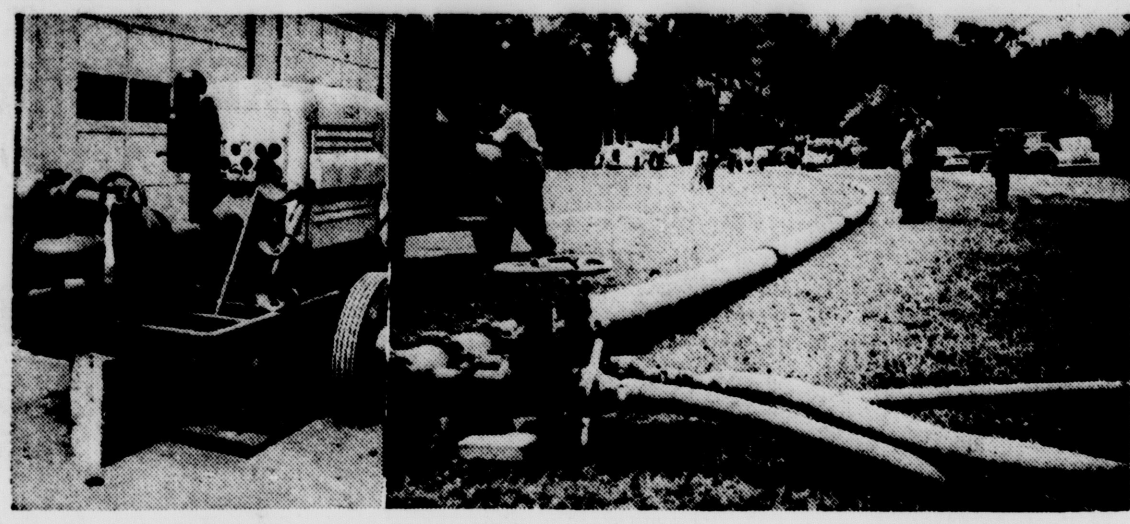

Vernor I. Ingram, R-Potsdam, complained that news media had not made the public sufficiently aware that an ethics bill, requiring disclosure of financial interests and setting a limit on gifts, had been enacted last year.

Donald A. Campbell, R-Amsterdam, failed in an effort to amend the bill to bar appearances by legislators as attorneys in any case in which the state was a party.

He and others objected to the fact that the bill exempted appearances before the State Tax Department, the State Department of Workmen's Compensation board.

Paul R. Taylor, R-Yates, claimed the exceptions were "Wall Street loopholes" that would excuse lawyers representing large companies.

Option Is Taken On Rt. 28 Site, Motel Possible

A local syndicate has taken an option on the Le Roy Boice premises just west of the New York State Thruway on Route 28. This gives rise to a report that another motel will locate on the site.

The option for the Boice property was negotiated through the Craft-Solomon Real Estate Agency of 42 Main Street, it became known today.

Some time ago it was reported that Schrafft's corporation was interested in a motel site in the area and also that Holiday Inn was looking for an area site. There also been reports that Shearson Inn interests are also interested in a local site. Howard Johnson Restaurants have erected motel and restaurant facilities on Route 28 just west of the traffic circle.

The Boice property is located on the northern side of Route 28 just west of the Thruway and near the Big Scot. It is considered one of the most valuable available motel sites along the Thruway between New York and Buffalo.

A right-of-way has also been acquired from Food Fair Properties of Philadelphia, Pa., to give a two-way entrance to the proposed motel site on the Boice property.

Know It's Lost

allowing him "to speak for myself because I never had attorneys to speak for me," and appeared to regret the use of his trial defense team, Tonahill, Melvin Belli and Phil Burleson.

"I'd have done better if I'd thrown myself at the mercy of the court," he said. Twice he declared, "I don't want you as my attorney, Mr. Tonahill."

Ruby began his statement saying: "I've been very patient while every one's classified me as an insane person."

Ruby and his family had sought to remove Tonahill as his attorney and replace him with a group of attorneys they had selected. Tonahill contended he had a valid contract with Ruby.

He said the condemned man signed it while he was sane and that he is now insane and incompetent to decide who his counsel will be.

"I'm responsible for terrible things — this is the part you think I'm insane about, but I'm not," Ruby said.

Tonahill said there is no appeal of Judge Holland's decision, but that he would continue to work on Ruby's appeal before the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals where he and Burleson are recognized as Ruby's attorneys of record.

Charges Dot Hearing
Judge Holland said a hearing would be held soon, perhaps next week, to determine if Judge Joe Brown, who presided at the Ruby murder trial, should be disqualified for the sanity hearing.

Testimony Monday was peppered with charges that lawyers sought to exploit Ruby for profit.

Earl Ruby of Southfield, Mich., a brother, said he lost confidence in Belli and Tonahill "when I learned they were making a movie during the trial."

Ruby's roster of lawyers now consists of William Kunstler of New York and Sam Houston Clinton Jr. of Austin, both American Civil Liberties Union attorneys; Elmer Gertz of Chicago; Sol Dann of Detroit; and Burleson, who apparently has been approved by the Ruby family.

18 Use Equipment

The Civil Defense Commission notes that 18 communities in 12 New York State counties are now using emergency water equipment provided by the state.

These are in Greene, Albany, Fulton, Orange, Jefferson, Otsego, Putnam, Rensselaer, Saratoga and Schoharie and Washington counties. Ulster was included because the equipment still remains at Rosendale, although not now in use. It includes some 3,000 feet of pipe.

Kingston, in 1957 obtained such emergency equipment from a civil defense stockpile at Windale, Dutchess County. The city then arranged to buy water from New York City. A pipeline was laid between the Ashokan Reservoir at West Hurley to a city reservoir at Zena, but replenishing rains came in the fall and the line was not used.

Drought condition data forwarded by the Civil Defense Commission was provided by Ernest C. Johnson, meteorologist in charge of the Albany office, U. S. Weather Bureau, and Ralph C. Heath of the Albany District, U. S. Geological Survey.

um 1 had been launched in darkness, and it provided early rising missile watchers with a brilliant performance of noise and fire.

Like Middy
It illuminated Cape Kennedy as if it were midday.

A great thunderclap rolled across the cape and a 300-foot tail of flame fanned out behind the booster as it raced toward space.

After 2½ minutes, the hydrogen-powered second stage ignited, and pushed the satellite into orbit.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced that Pegasus 2 was in an orbit ranging from about 320 to 460 miles high.

Personnel at the West Indies tracking station on Antigua watched on closed-circuit space television as the satellite's wings unfolded like an accordion high above the Atlantic some 2,000 miles southeast of Cape Kennedy.

Takes Pictures
They said a camera mounted on the second stage provided clear pictures of the deployment.

The burned-out second stage remained attached to the satellite for stabilization. Total weight was 23,000 pounds. Officials said the payload would be visible in areas of the world over which it passed at night.

The launching was the second of three planned in the Pegasus series, which draws its name from the flying horse of Greek mythology. The first Pegasus has been circling the earth since last Feb. 16. Although its panels have been peppered by thousands of tiny meteoroids, space agency officials say its findings have generated confidence that properly designed manned satellite surfaces will be able to withstand the impacts.

Orbiting of Pegasus 2 actually was a secondary goal of the launching. The main purpose was to further evaluate the Saturn 1, forerunner of the mighty Saturn 5 rocket which is being developed to launch American astronauts to the moon.

All eight previous test flights of the rocket were successful, with one more planned later this year.

for cultural and social affairs which will add to the cultural benefit of the entire community, the building committee announced.

The building committee is headed by Carl Lipton.

The congregation's present synagogue is situated at 72 Wurts Street, which was formerly an Episcopal Church.

Arrangements for a fund raising campaign will be announced.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK—AP—The stock market made a substantial recovery today with trading active early this afternoon.

Prices rebounded after three straight sessions of sharp decline. The downtrend, however, was accompanied by a day-to-day decrease in volume.

Wall Streeters who hope for higher prices were encouraged by the fact that today's advance was accompanied by a considerably heavier trading than the previous declines.

Gains of fraction to a point or so among key stocks were scored on a broad front.

Higher-priced or more volatile issues ran up 2 or more points.

Still in Slow Motion
HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Continued delaying tactics apparently will keep the Pennsylvania House in slow motion for some time to come, but the Senate Education Committee may be ready to act on the school bus bill by next week.

Rep. Erwin Murray, D-Camden, refused Monday to heed pleadings and demands of his fellow Democrats to give up his insistence that all bills be read at length.

Murray has been using the constitutional weapon since the first of the month in an effort to force majority Democrats to act on a Senate-passed resolution that would add Pennsylvania to the list of states favoring apportionment of one house of legislatures on factors other than population.

Morey Park Man Pleads Innocent To Scot Burglary

George Edward Henderson, 25, of Morey Park, Nassau, one of two men accused by the grand jury of breaking into the Big Scot store on Route 28 March 2, was arraigned in County Court Monday afternoon and entered a plea of innocent. His case was adjourned to July 1, at 10 a. m. when his attorney, Charles Saccaman, asked for a copy of the indictment and an opportunity to make motions addressed to the indictment. Bail was continued.

Henderson is the Rensselaer County man who remained hidden among the air ducts of the store when the burglary was discovered early on the morning of March 2. He remained among the rafters and air conditioning ducts until Thursday morning, March 4, when in an attempt to escape he touched off a burglar alarm and was taken into custody by Deputy Sheriff Ronald Dietz and Thomas O'Brien. Henderson had obtained no food or water during his hiding.

Hankle Due June 3
His companion Raymond Hankle, 22, of 32 Church Street, Nassau, had his case put over until June 3 at 10 a. m. His attorney was unable to be present in court. County Judge Raymond Mino directed that Hankle be in court at that time with his attorney or bail would be canceled. Hankle, according to police made good his escape and was not arrested until two days after the alleged burglary.

Hankle was picked up by East Greenbush State Police on a warrant after Henderson had been apprehended and talked to County Investigator Thomas Mayone. Hankle was held under $2,500 bail.

Hole in Wall
The two men allegedly came to Kingston and broke a hole through the rear wall of the store. A burglar alarm was set off and when investigating officers arrived at the scene one man was seen fleeing from the store. A second man remained in the store but a search failed to locate him until he was forced to reveal his hiding place two days later.

Hankle and Henderson stand indicted on charges of third degree burglary and unlawful entry.

Other Cases
Other arraignments by District Attorney Joseph Torraca Monday before County Judge Mino were:

Bruce Carle, third degree burglary; grand larceny, second degree and unlawful entry. Sherwood Davis appeared for Carle, entered a plea of innocent, asked for a copy of the indictment and continuance of bail. Case adjourned to July 1 at 10 a. m.

George Bishop Jr., operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. Adjudged on July 1 at 10 a. m. and bail continued. Plea of innocent entered.

Miss Kayros De La Vega, one indictment charging sale of narcotics and one for possession of hypodermic needles and syringe, possession of marijuana and possession of amphetamine. Sherwood Davis appeared for defendant and a plea of innocent was entered. Adjudged to July 1 at 10 a. m. Bail continued.

Eugene Jarvis, 17, third degree burglary and unlawful entry, allegedly at the former Yallium store on Broadway, last February 4. Jarvis of 37 Gill Street, and another East Strand youth were accused of entering the premises. S. James Matthews appeared for defendant by assignment and the case was adjourned to June 3 at 10 a. m.

Recess to June 3
Virginia Appollonia, second degree forgery, four counts, and petit larceny. She was reported ill and the case was adjourned to June 3 at 10 a. m.

James Baldwin, criminally possessing a pistol, on April 12, 1965, in Town of Marlboro. Adjudged to June 3 at 10 a. m. to allow time to secure an attorney.

Several other cases were called and adjourned to July 1 at 10 a. m.

Prior to adjournment District Attorney Joseph Torraca moved before Judge Mino to dismiss a number of old indictments which had been pending for years and in which there was no chance for conviction. Several of them were abandonment cases.

Court recessed to June 3 at 10 a. m.

Switch Stock Where Rate Reduction Upheld

Q "My wife and I are nearing the eighty-year mark. We have cash and own the following stocks (list too long to be reproduced.) There is a tax problem involved with those stocks given a check mark, since we have doubled our money on them. We have no loss in any of these holdings. Your comments would be appreciated."

A) Please accept my congratulations on approaching together the fine, ripe age of 80. You have an excellent list of stocks, with no really bad ones among them. I would advise the sale of only one of the stocks in which you have doubled your money. I say this, not only from a capital gains tax angle, but because they are for the most part extremely good issues, including Bank of America, American Telephone, California Interstate Telephone and Sierra Pacific Power.

I believe you are well situated as you are — with one exception. Pacific Tel. & Tel. has had a very adverse rate reduction ordered, which has now been court upheld. I would sell this issue and build up my holdings of Safeway Stores with the proceeds.

Q "I have available some funds which I can invest for three years, after which time I will require this money. Income would be helpful and I can't take any chance of losing. What stocks would you suggest?"

A) None at all. If you bought stocks, you might have to sell in a period of market decline which could seriously deplete your capital. You might buy U.S. Treasury 3½ per cent bonds due May 15, 1968, to yield 4.05 per cent. These should be reasonable safe from fluctuation and would mature at the time you need your funds.

Or, I would consider a savings bank yielding 4 to 4½ per cent interest, where your money should always be available for your needs.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Surrender Month Of Firearms Is Noted by Sheriff

June is known as "surrender month" during which persons may "voluntarily" surrender any unlawfully possessed weapon, instrument, appliance or substance with immunity from prosecution for the unlawful possession thereof.

Sheriff Claude Bell urges that any person who may illegally possess such a weapon or article, turn it in during June.

This applies to pistols, revolvers, machine guns, sawed-off shotguns, imitation pistols, switchblade knives, gravity knives and firearm silencers.

To get the benefit of the "immunity," the surrender must be made to the sheriff of the county where the person possessing same resides. However, in Nassau County the surrender must be made to the Commissioner of Police there, and if the person resides in a city having a population of 75,000 or more the surrender must be made to the Police Commissioner.

The surrender must be made after the person gives notice in writing shall state the person's name, address, nature of weapon to be surrendered and approximate time of day and place where the surrender shall take place.

Any weapon which is surrendered is a "nuisance" and must be destroyed or rendered ineffective unless a magistrate or the district attorney decrees otherwise.

There are certain conditions fixed under which the sheriff of the county must proceed prior to destroying a weapon.

Gun surrender month is observed each year and is designed to get rid of "unlawfully possessed" guns in the public interest. Every such weapon surrendered may save a life. In a home they can cause bloodshed and tragedy. When carried outside the home they have many times led to crime.

Anyone possessing a weapon without a proper license is urged by Sheriff Bell to surrender such weapon during June.

Several other cases were called and adjourned to July 1 at 10 a. m.

Prior to adjournment District Attorney Joseph Torraca moved before Judge Mino to dismiss a number of old indictments which had been pending for years and in which there was no chance for conviction. Several of them were abandonment cases.

Court recessed to June 3 at 10 a. m.

Kingston Residents Take Their Marriage Vows in St. Mary's Church on May 16th

It was a double ring wedding ceremony on Sunday, May 16, 1965 for Veronica Francis Schipp and Joseph James Avnet, both of Kingston.

The couple took their marriage vows in St. Mary's Church, this city, with the Rev. Nicholas Mosonic officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Eleanor Schipp of 48 Ravine Street, this city, and she was given in marriage by her uncle Leon Van Nostrand.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Avnet of 51 Brewster Street, Kingston.

Theodore Riccobono was organist for the occasion and Martin Kelly, soloist.

The bride was gowned in angel skin satin and lace. Her triple tiered silk illusion veil was shirred to a headpiece of flowers. She carried a bridal bouquet of daisies.

Donnie Barroncelli of 179 Downs Street, this city, was maid of honor in a pink gown. She carried daisies and lilies-of-the-valley.

Frank Reid of Orchard Street was best man. Ushers were Bill Reid of Kingston, Bill Smith, Albany, and Paul Van Horne of Kingston.

A reception was given in Jake's Restaurant after which Mr. and Mrs. Avnet left for Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Avnet was graduated with the class of 1964 from Kingston High School. Her husband, an alumnus of the KHS Class of 1959, attended Rider College. He is employed by the U. S. Post Office.

Mr. and Mrs. Avnet will be at home at 249 Washington Avenue, this city.

Berkshire Festival Tickets Available; 'Lohengrin' Series

The Boston Symphony Orchestra has extended its series ticket sale for the performances of Wagner's popular masterpiece "Lohengrin" to be given at Tanglewood (Lenox, Mass.) on August 20, 21, 22. Series prices for the "Lohengrin" weekend only will remain in effect through July 1. This unusual departure from the policy of closing series sales on May 25 has been prompted by the heavy demands for tickets of the three days.

In making the announcement about the extension of the series prices for the August 20, 21, 22 weekend Thomas D. Perry Jr., manager of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, said: "Our ticket orders for 'Lohengrin' to date have indicated that the large majority of patrons planning to attend this first complete performance of 'Lohengrin' in the Western Hemisphere wish to hear the entire opera. Act I is scheduled for Friday, August 20; Act II on August 21, and Act III on the closing Sunday of the Berkshire Festival, August 22. Ticket demands have been increasingly heavy during the past few days, and we did not want to disappoint those who wish to purchase tickets at the series price. Therefore, for the 'Lohengrin' concerts only we are extending the closing date for series tickets to July."

Ticket orders may be made to the Festival Ticket Office, Symphony Hall, Boston, Mass. 02115, until June 10. Thereafter orders should be sent to Festival Ticket Office, Tanglewood, Lenox, Mass. 01240. For the first seven weeks of the Tanglewood season tickets are now available at the single concert rates. A brochure containing complete programs and ticket information for the eight week festival beginning July 2 is available from the Festival Ticket Office, Symphony Hall, Boston, Mass. 02115.

Sabbath Service Will Be Conducted By Synagogue Youth

Members of the United Synagogue Youth of Congregation Ahavath Israel will conduct another Sabbath service on June 4.

The sermon topic will be "Important Figures in American Jewish History." All prospective members including those in the seventh grade are invited to attend.

It has been announced also that Helen Horowitz was elected president of United Synagogue Youth at a May 16 meeting. Serving with her will be Robert Strugatz, first vice president; Judy Schechtman, second vice president; Richard Johnson, third vice president; Cathy Cohen, corresponding secretary; Candy Harding, recording secretary; Ann Scher, treasurer.

Appointed delegates to the Jewish Community Center Youth Commission were Robert Strugatz, Judy Schechtman and Richard Johnson.

On May 7, 8 and 9, delegates from the Kingston unit of Synagogue Youth attended a convention in Poughkeepsie. This year's theme was "Customs and Rituals: Their Role in Our Tradition." Study groups and services were held also and convention delegates enjoyed Israeli dancing and social hours.

Scheduling of officers is scheduled for the upcoming picnic details of which will be announced.

The Simcha Chapter of USY extended a vote of appreciation to Lois Muller who organized the first USY chapter in Kingston. Miss Muller, who served as president, leaves for college in the fall.

Concert Tonight At Hurley School

The Hurley School will present a musical concert and literary fair tonight at 6:30 p. m. in the school auditorium.

The orchestra, under the direction of Joseph LaRusso, will begin at 7:30 p. m. and will include students from Hurley, Tillson, Sophie Finn and School No. 7. A variety of numbers will be presented, the feature selection being a clarinet solo, "Hello Dolly", by Ivan Fernandez.

The literary fair, according to Mrs. F. Mae Nash, chairman, and Mrs. Ina Roidl, co-chairman, will be open from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m. and after the concert. The display will include samples of literary work from all students in Grades 1 to 6. The children's work will include creative stories, poems, reports, children's books, book reports, and other literary work.

The public is cordially invited to attend and enjoy both parts of the evening's program.

TERMS OF ENDEARMENT TO STRANGERS

Q: I would like your opinion on what seems to be a quite common practice among salespeople, waitresses, etc., to call women patrons "dearie" and "honey." I find it very irritating and I resent being called this by perfect strangers. Is this not in very bad taste?

A: I most certainly do agree that such terms of endearment are in very bad taste by those who serve the public.

Bride's Brother and Sister Send Invitations

Q: My parents died many years ago and I have been living at home with an older brother and sister. Both are unmarried. I am going to be married in the near future and I would like to know if it would be proper to have their names appear on my invitations. I am devoted to both of them.

A: It will be unusual, but there is no reason why the invitations may not read:

Miss Anne Jones and
Mr. Henry Jones
request the honour of your presence at the marriage of their sister Mary etc.

Dining With Husband's Employer

Q: My husband and I have been invited to dinner at the house of his employer and his wife. They are very formal people and this will be our first visit to their house. I would like to know how long before dinner we are expected to arrive, and how long do we stay after dinner is over?

A: You arrive at the hour set for dinner and stay at least an hour or an hour and a half after dinner. Of course if you are having a good time and conversation is stimulating, you may stay longer.

A reception for 100 guests was held in Ray's Riverside Rest.

Wedding Vows Taken by Lamaro-Wickman

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS HENRY WICKMAN
(Lakeside Studio)

Marriage vows were exchanged on May 15, 1965, at 11 a. m. in St. Catherine Labour Church, Lake Katrine, by Josephine Ann Lamaro of Kingston and Thomas Henry Wickman, also of this city.

The Rev. Robert O'Donnell was celebrant of the Nuptial Mass and officiated during the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of John Lamaro of Saugerties Road, Kingston and the late Mrs. John Lamaro. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wickman of 55 Southfield Street, Kingston.

Traditional wedding music was provided by Miss Sandra Grier with Mrs. James Sweeney as soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white silk peau de sole gown. Her bouffant veil of pure silk illusion was shoulder length and was held by a stylized headpiece.

She carried a cascade of white glameillas and carnations.

Mrs. Robert DeDea, sister of the bride was matron of honor. She wore a floor length pale blue crepe gown and a crown of pale blue. She carried a cascade of pink glameillas and pink carnations.

Other attendants were the Misses Ann Wickman, sister of the bridegroom, and Karen Werner, both of Kingston. Their gowns were identical to the matron of honor's and they carried cascades of pink carnations.

Robert DeDea, brother-in-law of the bride, was best man. Ushering were Dennis DiDonna, cousin of the bride, and Donald Navara, both of Kingston.

A reception for 175 guests was given at the Capri in Port Ewen.

The bride was graduated from Academy of St. Ursula and is employed by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, Hall of Records. Her husband is an alumnus of Kingston High School and served with the U.S. Air Force. He is employed by IBM in Poughkeepsie.

For traveling, the bride chose a pink dress and coat ensemble with black patent leather accessories and a white carnation corsage. The couple will reside at 86 Brewster Street, this city after a wedding trip to Miami Beach, Fla.

Presbyterians Call for Bold New Ministry

By JOHN T. WHEELER

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — United Presbyterians widened their attack on sociological problems today after pushing aside criticism against the church for past actions in such matters.

A plea to enlarge the 3½-million-member denomination's ministry outside the church came as the 177th General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. moved into its sixth day of week-long sessions.

A committee of 100 placed a proposal before the church's governing body calling for "bold and creative new forms of ministry."

The Rev. John W. Meister, of Fort Wayne, Ind., told newsmen the proposal was a challenge to each of the denomination's 9,100 churches "to renew and extend the church's ministry." He said each presbytery and church can chart its own course.

Tied to the emphasis on problems outside the church is the assembly's coming test of a new confession of faith which, some observers said, would indicate doctrinal backing of sociological projects already practiced by the church.

A vote on the historic confession was scheduled tonight. In overwhelming votes Monday, the assembly's 835 delegates shouted down a proposal to quit the National Council of Churches and brushed aside petitions on sexual morality.

The Birmingham, Ala., Presbytery had asked the church to withdraw from the council and disassociate itself from demonstrations and "freedom marches" in support of the civil rights movement.

The assembly pushed away the resolutions on sexual morality by approving, instead, a brief motion saying the church "does indeed reaffirm its adherence to our historic moral standards."

Memorial Day Plans of VFW Auxiliary Noted

Memorial Day will be observed by members of Saugerties Memorial Post 5034, VFW, and its Ladies Auxiliary starting at 8 a. m. Monday. Members will assemble at St. Joseph's Church, Glasco, to attend the annual Mass offered by the Gold Star Mothers. A memorial tribute for the war dead will follow by the Rev. Archibald Damm, pastor, at the monument at the entrance to the church.

VFW services will take place at 9:15 a. m. at the VFW Hall, Livingston Street. Members will then join with the American Legion as they conduct services 9:45 on John Street, and will march at 10 a. m. At the conclusion of the Main Street school ceremonies, the VFW will lay a wreath at the Main Monument, Malden, with appropriate rites.

Commander Ignazio Bosco and Auxiliary President Mrs. Margaret Wade expect all Post and Auxiliary members to participate in the tribute to the honored war dead.

It was also requested during last week's Auxiliary meeting, that flags be flown on that day. Mrs. Marie Sheehan announced that reservations are now available for the June 13 bus trip, earmarked Ballgame or Fair. It is Kingston Day at Shea Stadium and Mrs. Sheehan has box seats for the occasion. Those wishing to attend the fair instead may also travel. A few Fair admission tickets may be had. The bus will leave the Saugerties bus terminal at 8 a. m. Contact Mrs. Daniel Sheehan in Barclay Heights.

A blood bank drawing will take place in June. Full details will be announced by the chairman, Mrs. Helen Gardner.

The Hudson Valley County Council will convene in Saugerties on Sunday, June 6 at 2:30 p. m. Delegates to the June department convention to be held in Syracuse, were elected. Mrs. Helen Arold and Mrs. Marie Sheehan will attend as the Saugerties delegates and Mrs. Catherine Benz and Mrs. Mary Wood as alternates. Mrs. Wood will also serve as page for Mrs. Julia Lane of Kingston who is the department chairman.

Mrs. Mary Bonack, rehabilitation chairman, reported that eight corsages for Mothers Day had been sent to the Gold Star Mothers who are auxiliary members.

The Auxiliary color will march in the Fourth of July parade.

A standing vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Ruth Prendergast, Mrs. Helen Gardner and Mrs. Kay Helm for their successful completion of projects of an April rummage sale, VFW Buddy Poppy sale and third annual antique show and sale, respectively. Each chairman voiced her thanks to all the members who cooperated so fully to make the events worthwhile. Mrs. Wade also expressed her thanks for the Auxiliary's support in the Loyalty Day venture.

Installation of officers followed the regular meeting with the members of the Past Presidents Club.

W. Camp Church Has 7 in Class For Confirmation

Seven members of the senior confirmation class of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, West Camp will receive the rites of confirmation during the Sunday 11 a. m. worship service on May 30.

Those to be confirmed are Sharon Moon and Gerda Fischer of Malden; Karlyn Knaust of Saugerties; Kevin Deescher of Asbury; Brenda Pavlink, John Tobiasen and Bruce Wrolsen, all of West Camp.

Members of the class will receive their first Communion Pentecost Sunday June 6 at the 11 a. m. service.

Completes Service

James Armstrong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Armstrong of Fish Creek recently completed four years of service with the U. S. Navy and returned to the home of his parents this week.

A missile technician third class, he was stationed at Long Beach, Calif., after overseas duty. He served on the USS Topeka and USS England and his tour included the South China Sea off Viet Nam. On discharge he was awarded the Foreign Expeditionary Service medal, a unit citation.

REV. FREDERICK J. IMHOFF

Local Minister Will Be Speaker Memorial Day

This year's Saugerties Man of the Year, the Rev. Frederick J. Imhoff, will be the principal speaker at Memorial Day exercises following the annual parade Monday morning.

The Rev. Mr. Imhoff, pastor of First Congregational Church, Main Street, was named Man of the Year by Saugerties Jaycees early in March.

A resident of Mt. Airy, Town of Saugerties he is a parttime minister of his church and a member of Catskill High School faculty. A native of Jersey City, N. J., he started his pastorate here April 1964.

The Memorial Day rites will be held following the parade through the main business section of the village.

The day's program will start at 9:45 a. m. at the Soldiers and Sailors Monument at the rear of the Legion Home. At 10 a. m. the parade will step off from the Legion Home and proceed through the business district to Main Street School grounds where services will be conducted.

Isabel DeCelle Installed VFW Auxiliary Head

Installation of the new officers of the Ladies Auxiliary to Saugerties Memorial Post 5034, VFW was held last week following the regular monthly meeting.

Mrs. Isabel DeCelle accepted the gavel from the installing officer Mrs. Mary Wood. Mrs. DeCelle, who succeeds Mrs. Peggy Wade, will assume duties in July.

Also installed were Mrs. Mary Bonack, senior vice president; Mrs. Kay Helm, junior vice president; Mrs. Marie Sheehan, treasurer; Mrs. Jan Dengler, secretary; Mrs. Marie Parks, chaplain; Mrs. Mary Wood, conductress; Mrs. Frances Bosco, guard; Mrs. Gladys Smith, patriotic instructor; Mrs. Helen Ricks, historian; Mrs. Lillian Lutz, musician; Mrs. Wade, three year trustee.

Color bearers will be Mrs. Margaret Wright, Mrs. Catherine Goede, Mrs. Mary Cook and Mrs. Albertina Connolly. Installed as pro-tem flag and banner bearers were Miss Hannah Lewis and Mrs. Marge Kohan.

Chairman of the various committees will be announced at a later date.

Following the oath of obligation membership pins were distributed to those present. Listed as recipients were: 10-year pins—Mrs. Catherine Kime, Mrs. Florence Meyer and Mrs. Wade; five-year pins—Mrs. Helen Carle, Mrs. Goede and Mrs. Margaret Thein.

Mrs. Wade presented a gift to the outgoing secretary Mrs. Bonack and Mrs. Sheehan, who served as treasurer. The president's and past president's pins were given by Mrs. Hazel Drewes, a member of the Past Presidents Club.

The Past Presidents Club was also responsible for the candlelight supper served to approximately 40 persons. Grace was offered by Miss Marie McCutcheon. Guests included the present Commander Ignazio Bosco and the Commander-elect Joseph Cusack.

Serving on the supper committee were Miss McCutcheon, Mrs. Drewes, Miss Lewis, Mrs. Ruth Prendergast, Mrs. Helen Arold, Mrs. Helen Gardner, Mrs. Mary Breithaupt, Mrs. Dorothy Wood, Mrs. Mary Wood, Mrs. Sheehan, Mrs. Eileen Hommel, and Mrs. Dengler.

Explains Purposes Of Town GOP

"One of the purposes of the Saugerties Republican Club Inc. is to lend assistance in anyway they can to help their constituents with problems which might arise. This was one of the welcoming statements made by Pres. Louis P. Francello to representatives of Quarryville Civic Association who were special guests at the May meeting, held at Blue Stone Lodge Quarryville.

William Brown praised the Quarryville Civic Association for its dedicated interest in their community. The Saugerties Rep. Club pledged themselves to set up a committee to inquire, investigate and use their influence in assisting the Association in its endeavor to make their community a pleasant, clean, and an enjoyable area to live.

Charles Scala, general chairman, for the spring dinner-dance gave a report on the highly successful endeavor. He specially brought attention to the high effectiveness of having Republicans meet socially plus giving them the opportunity to meet and hear their elective officers and also proposed candidates.

During the summer the Ulster County Republican Committee sends a letter to all enrolled Republicans asking for their continued support of the party.

The Town of Saugerties Republican Club voted to accept as a project and political duty, the addressing of these envelopes for the Township of Saugerties. This will be quite an undertaking for there are over 3,900 enrolled Republicans in the township.

The next meeting will be held June 17 in the High Woods, Mt. Marion area. All from that area are extended a special invitation to attend and to air their problems.

Saugerties Man In Cycle Mishap Taken to Albany

A Saugerties motorcyclist, critically injured and burned Sunday afternoon in a collision with a car, was transferred Monday by Doctors' ambulance from Benedictine Hospital to Albany Medical Center in Albany.

Michael Kinkel, 25, of Saugerties RD 1, was reported in critical and fair condition this noon as the Albany hospital.

State police said that Kinkel's cycle was in collision with a car driven by Richard Swart, 17, of Saugerties RD 3, on Route 32 about 2½ miles west of Rt. 212.

They said that the cycle caught on fire after the collision and Swart suffered burns when he tried to help Kinkel from the wreckage. Swart was treated at Benedictine for hand burns, and released. Kinkel suffered second degree burns and cuts to the body.

Student Killed As Bus Flips, 23 Others Hurt

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — A school bus returning from an outing in Pittsburgh flipped over on an exit ramp of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Monday, fatally injuring a young girl and injuring 23 other persons, two seriously.

Virginia Herr, 13, Donegal, died shortly after arriving at Frick Memorial Hospital in Mount Pleasant. Patricia White, Jones Mills, and Catherine Kinner, Donegal, were in critical condition at Somerset Community Hospital.

The bus was carrying 38 persons, mostly children who were pupils at the Donegal Elementary School.

State police said the vehicle's brakes failed as it approached the toll booth at the Donegal Interchange in the western part of the state.

Ends in Compromise

WARSAW, Ind. (AP) — The Hoosier-style "boar war," has ended in compromise.

Walter Blocker, 48, told his complaining Kosciusko County neighbors during a court recess Monday he would halt his boar hunts Sept. 30.

The neighbors claimed the boars damaged crops, killed farm animals and scared children.

Blocker said his year-round hunts have been conducted the past two years for men willing to pay for shooting what he called "semiwild" boars imported from Florida.

Appeals to Students
MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, opening a new drive for volunteers for the Domestic Peace Corps, has urged University of Minnesota students to "give a year of your lives in service to Americans who live in poverty."

The vice president also spoke Monday at MacAlester College in St. Paul, where he was awarded an honorary Doctor of Laws degree at commencement exercises.

Sawkill

Memorial Services

SAWKILL—The Sawkill Cub Scout Pack 8 of Sawkill will hold a Memorial service with invocation at 1 p. m. Sunday, May 30, 1965, at the Memorial Monument in Sawkill located in the town hall, firehouse area. The Cub Scouts will march from the town hall to the monument where they will place a wreath during the ceremony.
Everyone in the community wishing to join in tribute during this memorial service may do so.

Brownie Activities

At the recent Brownie Troop 162 Fly-Up Ceremony, the names of the Junior Girl Scout Troop 36 members Jane Leedocke, Virginia Malone, Jessica Duffy and Katherine Burton were inadvertently omitted. The Junior Scouts took part in the ceremonies of the evening, and welcomed the new Junior Scouts into their troop.

Auxiliary to Meet

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Sawkill Fire Company will hold its next regular meeting at the firehouse Wednesday, June 2, at 8 p. m. Election of officers for the coming fiscal year starting July 1 will be held.

CP Benefit Dance

The current drive for Cerebral Palsy, under chairmanship of Mrs. Thomas Malone, co-chairman, Mrs. Douglas Dye, and committee members Mrs. William McColgan, Mrs. John O'Keefe, Mrs. John Duffy, and Mrs. William Ferguson, will sponsor a round and square dance at the Sawkill Firehouse on Saturday, May 29 from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m., with music by the Country Three. Refreshments will be available. Tickets are available from any member of the committee, chairman, or co-chairman, or may be purchased at the door.

All Escape

GRANADA, Nicaragua (AP) — Nicaragua's entire female prison population escaped from jail Monday. One of the four escapees had second thoughts later and turned herself in.
Until this little Central-American country's only women's prison was completed two months ago, women offenders were allowed to serve out their terms at home.

Odd Finesse Is Obligatory

By JACOB Y. SON
1965 Vanderbilt Cup Winners
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Most of the time when you lose a finesse, you break even because you would have been sure to lose the trick later. Occasionally it turns out that the card you finessed against is unguarded in back so that refusal to finesse would have actually gained a trick for you.

Today's hand illustrates a play that goes by the name of the obligatory finesse. It is given that name because it is a finesse that can't possibly cost you a trick.

South's four-spade contract is not one of those gilt-edge ones that you can take down to your bank and borrow money on. In fact, it is doubtful that even a cockeyed optimist would consider it a good investment, but the contract is not hopeless.

East wins the first trick with the ace of hearts and returns the suit. South's queen falls to West's king. West leads his jack and South ruffs.

Now South leads a low trump toward dummy. West will play low and dummy's queen will win back dummy's other spade and the trick. Then South will lead back dummy's other spade and here is the spot for the obligatory finesse. South must play a low spade on East's jack or ten, depending on which one he has elected to play.

This is a peculiar sort of finesse since South is actually playing a card that can't possibly win the trick, but this time it does the work of a king. West has to play his ace in any event and the obligatory finesse has worked. Of course, it might go wrong. East, for some peculiar reason known only to himself, might have chosen to hold up his ace and not use it when the queen was played from dummy. He might make that play but of late years we have not found many East players of that type.

Marketing Order On Cherries Fails

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department says a proposed federal marketing order for red tart cherries did not receive the necessary two-thirds approval from growers in eight states.

The program was designed to stabilize grower prices by regulating cherries moved in interstate commerce. States involved were Michigan, New York, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Virginia, West Virginia and Maryland.

The Agriculture Department said Monday that only 57 percent of the growers voting favored the program.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market has been indulging in what looks like an attack of spring fever. And the question is whether that's all it is, or whether an authentic period of caution has set in for stock traders.

After climbing to highs in the first two weeks of May, stock prices slid in the third week, with trading slackening off as the sun warmed up.

Brokers are watching to see if the market stays lackadaisical until the long Memorial Day weekend. For many this will mark the start of a new season, whatever the solar time table may say.

Cautionary signs are clearly visible.

The international news has been disturbing on several fronts. Increased fighting in Viet Nam and the Dominican revolt on this nation's doorsteps has led many to wonder what may be ahead: more orders for defense firms? Less emphasis on domestic programs?

Tin, copper and other commodities are involved in political and labor troubles abroad. Steel and aluminum are tangled in gaining at home, with the re-labor-management hard bargaining at home, with the results carrying the possibility of effects well-beyond the field of metals.

The big boost in auto sales and in buying of steel in the first quarter has aided the economy to set highs. And corporation profits have taken a big jump as a result. So have personal incomes.

Much of the drop in the third week of May could have been traced to disappointment that stocks weren't split, dividends weren't raised, or at least not as high as rumored, that profits of some firm looked good but not brilliant.

The market as a whole has had a long uphill climb. Spring fever could be just a natural reaction.

From a 1962 low of 535.76, the Dow-Jones industrial average rose to a record 939.62 May 11. By Friday May 21 it had slipped to 922.01. This index of 30 leading stocks, heavily weighted to give effect to the many splits and other corporate changes over the years, is only an indicator at best of the course of the general market, but it is closely followed by the public.

The climb of 403.86 points from the low point after the 1962 market crash is a whooper. The slip of 17.61 points in the third week of May is hardly catastrophic.

Desegregation
Plan of Mayor
Riles Whites

BOGALUSA, La. (AP) — Angry whites, fighting any move toward desegregation, pressed today for a recall election aimed at ousting the mayor.

About 500 whites milled around a bonfire rally in a city park Monday night after the park gates were ripped away.

Mayor Jesse Cutrer Jr., and the Commission Council had closed the all-white parks here last Wednesday after about 100 Negroes, staging a test picnic, were attacked by whites.

The recall petition was started by the Bogalusa Citizens Council after Cutrer announced the city's illegal segregation laws would be wiped off the books.

"I have to do what I think is right for the community," the mayor said. "You can't let those on the fringe lead. All I can see, otherwise, is chaos and violence and killing."

The Citizens Council accused the mayor of "going along with scalawags, carpetbaggers and outside agitators."

The council petition increased the pressure on Mayor Cutrer, 50, who has been in the uncomfortable middle between the Ku Klux Klan and civil rights workers for months.

The black-haired mayor, an ice cream manufacturer, said he will not back off from his stand.

Negroes make up about 35 per cent of the 23,000 residents of this southeast Louisiana city, located in an area which the Klan claims as its own.

At Monday night's park rally, big signs reading, "This park closed indefinitely by order of Commission Council" were torn down.

There were cries of, "Let's go to City Hall." Some drove to the white-columned City Hall, which resembles an antebellum mansion, but found it closed.

Named to Authority

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller today nominated John B. Leonard of Ogdensburg as a member of the Ogdensburg Bridge and Port Authority for a term ending Jan. 1, 1967.

If the Senate confirms the nomination, Leonard, a 42-year-old attorney, would succeed Frank A. Murray of Ogdensburg, who has resigned from the unsalaried post.

Retired Gannett Man Dies

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Herbert W. Cruickshank, a retired newspaper executive, died Monday in Honolulu it was reported here.

Cruickshank, 71, retired in 1955 as general manager, director and treasurer of the Gannett Co. Inc., which owns and operates newspapers, including two in Rochester.

SHANDAKEN'S CHECK FOR CANCER—Town of Shandaken with a population of 2,078 raised $2,115.24 in this year's Cancer Crusade, breaking all per capita donation records in the county and the state, according to Mrs. Ruth Landesman, town chairman. Putting a big dent into the town quota is a check for $1,279, the proceeds of the annual cancer benefit dinner served by Mr. and Mrs. Matty Ricciardella, owners of the Hofbrau Restaurant at Phoenixia. At the check presentation ceremony are (l-r) Mrs. Ricciardella, Dorothy Munch, dinner co-chairman; Ricciardella, presenting the check; postmaster Frank Platz, drive treasurer, and Mrs. Landesman, George Svirsky, president of Ulster County Unit, American Cancer Society, expressed sincerest thanks on behalf of the board of directors to each worker and contributor who helped to make this an outstanding effort.

NEW PALTZ NEWS

Requests Heard
At Meeting of Paltz Town Board

NEW PALTZ—At the recent meeting of the New Paltz Town Board, Leo Spies, requested an appeal for his mother, Mrs. Loni Barek, who owns some 50 acres of land on the Mountain Rest Road, to modify its seven per cent limitation on the amount of grade permitted in the road specifications. She purchased the land several years ago as an investment and now wishes to sell the property for development.

Mr. Spies thought that the road specifications should be dictated by the location of the site. This was supported by Abram Paradies, local road builder and chairman of the Zoning Board of Appeals. He suggested that the seven per cent limit should not apply in the mountainous sections of New Paltz. Isaac Pole, local highway superintendent reported that the seven per cent grade is recommended by both state and County Highway departments. Supervisor Peter Savago read a section of the Zoning Law governing roads which said that the grade could be varied on recommendation of the Highway Superintendent. It was suggested that Mr. Spies and Paradies inspect the area in question and decide what could be done.

Mrs. Barek had questioned the tax rate she was paying on this property if it could not be developed which was why her late husband purchased it several years ago.

Reappoint Paradies

Savago reported that Paradies' term of office as chairman of the Zoning Board of Appeals was about to expire, and suggested that he be reappointed for another term. This action was unanimously supported by the board.

The board approved an amendment to the contract between the town and the Master Plan Consultants for the payment of an additional $351 for a base map. At the original agreement, it was understood that the maps drawn by the State University Engineers would be adequate, but this turned out to be untrue. The total cost will now be in the amount of $3,185.

Johnson Sure Bet

TAKOMA PARK, Md. (AP) — Barry Goldwater, the 1964 GOP presidential candidate, lectured a freshman English class at Montgomery Junior College Monday from his Phoenix home. Connected with the class by telephone, Goldwater expounded on his book, "Conscience of a Conservative," and fielded questions from students. Goldwater said that on reflection he felt no Republican could have defeated President Johnson last November.

430-510 Toll
Predicted for Long Holiday

CHICAGO (AP) — Heavy highway traffic over the long Memorial Day weekend could take between 430 and 510 lives, the National Safety Council said today.

The period covered by the estimate will run from 6 p.m. local time Friday, May 28, to midnight Monday, May 31.

Gives Innocent Plea
In Couple's Death

UTICA, N.Y. (AP)—Paul A. Winters Jr., 16, accused of three slayings, pleaded innocent Monday to first-degree murder charges in the deaths of Arthur Salisbury, 77, and his wife, Elizabeth, 68.

Onondaga County Court Judge John H. Walsh said he would hear motions from Winters' court-appointed attorney, Charles A. Drake of Utica, on June 15.

State Police said Winters attacked the Salisburys, using a hunting knife and a rifle, during an attempted robbery in their home in the nearby town of New Hartford on March 27.

Florida authorities linked Winters with the March 7 slaying of Harold O. King, 38, in Vero Beach Florida, after Winters was arrested March 28 for the Salisbury slayings.

Hurley Announces
Memorial Day
Plans for Monday

The annual Memorial Day program at Hurley, conducted by Hurley Grange will start with a parade Monday 10:30 a. m. starting from Hurley School. Marchers will line up at 10 a. m.

The memorial rites will be conducted directly after the parade at Hurley Historical Cemetery.

Dr. Sherman Hasbrouck Masten, dean of Ulster Community College will be the guest speaker.

Dr. Masten, former associate dean at Hofstra University on Long Island is civically active in Ulster County as a member of Onondaga Board of Education; a committeeman of Boy Scouts of America; member of board of directors of Ulster County Association for Mental Health, Hasbrouck Family Association, Kingston Kiwanis Club and State School Boards Association.

He is a veteran of the U. S. Air Force 1942-1945 and won the Air Medal and Distinguished Flying Cross.

Hurley Boy Scout Drum Corps will provide the music for the marchers.

Victim Turns Out To Be Her Husband

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP) — Smith Tolmie, 72, was killed in a traffic accident that his wife reported to the police, not knowing her husband was involved.

Police said his automobile struck a tree stump along Lake Lenox Road Monday, about a mile from a tavern that he owned and lived in.

A motorist who witnessed the accident drove to the tavern and asked Mrs. Tolmie to call police. She learned later that her husband had died in the crash.

Court Strikes
Down Law on 'Red'
Mail From Abroad

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court struck down today a 1962 law authorizing the Post Office Department to hold up Communist mail from abroad.

Justice William O. Douglas delivered the 8-0 decision. Justice Byron R. White took no part.

The government contended the law served two basic purposes: It protected American citizens, especially those of recent foreign origin, from harassment; it denied foreign powers the service of having the United States deliver their propaganda to people who did not want it.

The law was attacked as contradictory to a free and open society and as an unwarranted invasion of privacy.

The law provided that mailed matter—except sealed letters—that originated in a foreign country and was determined by the secretary of the treasury to be Communist political propaganda was to be held up by the postmaster general.

With certain exceptions this mail could be delivered only upon the addressee's request. If there was no request the mail was destroyed.

AMOCO Gasoline is not a "me too" gasoline. It contains no lead. It is the only lead-free gasoline for your car and this important refining difference is Certified. Once you try lead-free AMOCO, you'll decide that it's The Only One for you, too.

Another plus: The American FINAL/FILTER: All gasolines pick up tiny impurities in transit and in storage. But when you "fill 'er up filtered" at American Oil Dealers, these contaminants are stopped right at the pump nozzle by the American FINAL/FILTER.

Spiegel Low Medalist With 75

High School Golfers Section 9 Champs

Team Aggregate
336 Leads Field
By Two Strokes

BY CHARLES J. TIANO
(Freeman Sports Editor)

The last did come first in the annual Section Nine high school golf tournament at Ramapo Golf and Country Club Monday at Spring Valley.

Sam Spiegel, who has been playing in the No. four spot for Kingston High all season, captured tournament medalist honors with three-over-par 75 and paced the Maroons to the team championship with a four-man aggregate of 336.

Spiegel carried nines of 36-39 on the par 36-72 layout, as Coach Harold Hathaway's swingers edged highly favored Spring Valley High by two strokes. Spiegel birdied three of the first four holes on the back nine.

Making up the winning total for Kingston were:

Neil Pauker, 42-39-81.
Jordan Pauker, 37-46-83.
Bob Barthel, 48-49-97.

Par Proves Elusive
Trailing Kingston and Spring Valley were: Newburgh Academy 342, Port Jervis 346 and Poughkeepsie High 349, giving the DUSO League four of the first five places.

Spiegel had a one-stroke edge over Tony La Porte for medalist honors. Ricky Spares, the Port Jervis hotshot, finished in a tie for third with Marvin Newburgh of Fallsburg Central at 79.

Three players tied for the fifth spot with 80's, necessitating a playoff for the fifth place on the Section Nine team that will compete in the New York State tournament Monday, June 7, at Harrison.

Involvement in the tie at 80 were: Mike Zaifert, Spring Valley; Peter Burtsch, Pearl River and Larry Burrows, Poughkeepsie.

Await Results
The victory climaxed a highly successful season for the Maroons, who recently set an all-time school scoring record, and are tied for the DUSO League lead. Kingston will play the winner of today's Port Jervis-Newburgh contest for the 1965 championship.
Coach Hathaway of Kingston will lead the Section Nine contingent in the state championships.

Liston Remains 16-10 Over Clay

LEWISTON, Maine (AP) — In a television studio named the Central Maine Youth Center, heavyweight champion Cassius Clay and Sonny Liston will meet again tonight in a 15-round title fight which will be telecast live to millions in North America and Europe.

Reports that there may be an attempt on Clay's life by followers of the slain Black Nationalist leader Malcolm X have increased interest in this controversial return bout but failed to cause any noticeable stir at the ticket office.

There may be only 3,000 paying customers in the high school hockey rink when Clay, a 13-10 underdog, steps into the ring at 9:30 p.m. EST, to defend his crown against the man he defeated in a controversial fight in Miami Beach 15 months ago.

Clincher Comes In 7th Inning; Bach Gains Win

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Lou Perry walloped a robust home run with two outs and nobody on base in the last of the seventh inning to bring a DUSO pitching duel to a sudden end yesterday at Dietz Stadium.

The blast broke a scoreless tie and gave Kingston High a pulsating, 1-0, triumph over Poughkeepsie and threw the DUSO baseball race into a virtual three team deadlock.

Here's how the standings read:

Team	Won	Lost
Kingston	5	2
Newburgh	5	2
Poughkeepsie	4	2
Port Jervis	4	2
Middletown	0	6

Prior to his game winning hit, which came with two outs and on a 0-2 pitch, Perry had been the defensive whiz for KHS as Brian Bach of the locals and Fred Johnson of the Pioneers had waged an impressive hurling duel.

Some Fielding Gems
Lou went to his left and right in handling chances, many of them tough ones. He was on the front end of a doubleplay and narrowly missed starting another. But, in the end, it was his bat which proved to be the difference.

Both sides had scoring opportunities but couldn't dent home plate. Poughkeepsie had two runners on base in the fourth frame and had a couple of other chances.

Coach Mike Rienzo's team opened the crucial tilt by putting two runners on with nobody out and failed to score.
The biggest frustration for the KHS side came in the fourth when the locals had three hits and the PHS defense went without a run.

Is Caught Stealing
In that frame, Bill Dugan led off with a hit but was caught stealing. Pete Watzka followed with a safety and Ed Mills was safe on an error. After Bach whiffed, John Eccleston beat out an infield hit to clog the sacks. Johnson then struck out Charlie Green to stop the threat.

Bach struck out only four batters during the afternoon but he kept the ball low, forcing the visitors to hit grounders. In fact, aside from two singles by Wally Driver, only one ball was hit to the outfield.
Catcher George Gordon put the wood to the ball in the top of the seventh, sending it far and deep to left. Dugan, with his back to the plate, made an over the shoulder catch, robbing the PHS catcher of at least a triple and possibly a home run.

Johnson, who mixed a good fast ball with an assortment of slow curves, retired the first two batters in the seventh and it appeared as if this thriller were going to go on all night.

Perry Connects
He got two quick strikes on the southpaw swinging Perry. Fred threw the fast ball next and Perry lined it down the right field line.

The ball hit well past the right fielder and Lou circled the sacks. He slid home well ahead of the relay and was then mobbed by his happy teammates. With that winning hit, Kingston now has a shot at the DUSO title. The locals have a make-up tilt next Tuesday at Port Jervis.
Newburgh closes Thursday against Middletown. Poughkeepsie has Port Jervis on Thursday and Middletown next week. If the three top clubs fail to lose another game, the race will end in a three-way deadlock.

No matter what happens, yesterday's game will long be remembered. It was a schoolboy classic.

Buckman Bird Is Race Winner

A bird owned by Cecelia Buckman of Kingston won the Kingston Ulster racing pigeon club 8th annual race from Charlottesville, Va., beating 125 birds from 15 member lofts.

The winning bird averaged 1062-480 yards per minute.
Birds from the Tony Lanzarone loft of Highland, the Fred Polizzi loft of Mt Marion and the Walter Jones loft of Highland were second, third and fourth.

The next race is scheduled Sunday from Charlottesville.

Johnny's Shell Unbeaten In City Softball League

Johnny's Shell Station remained unbeaten in the City Softball league with an 18-2 walloping of Minute Car Wash last night at Upper Hasbrouck Park.

In other action, Armstrong's Eagles beat Wimpy's 6-4, and Subway Grill scored its initial win by blanking Cord's Hose Vols No. 8, 10-0.

Al Milak and Joe Amato Sr. combined on a five-hitter for Johnny's. The winners sprayed 17 hits against Tellie Jackson of Minute Car Wash with a grand slam homer by Tony Amato being the big blow.

Bill Costello overcame seven walks to hurl Armstrong's to its victory. He allowed five hits but struck out 10. Billy aided his cause with a pair of doubles. Charlie Armstrong and John Armstrong had home runs. Bill Stokes lost it.

Subway used a pair of five-run innings to beat Cord's Hose. Vince Peck hurled a two-hitter in besting Gene Palladino. Red Gorsline homered for the winners.

Tonight's action has G-G's Rest meeting The 35 Club at Block Park.

CYO Announces June 12 Date For Herdegen Memorial Track

The Seventh Annual C. Y. O. Elementary Girl's Track and Field Meet and the Annual Herdegen Memorial Track meet for Ulster will be held Saturday, June 12 at Dietz Memorial Stadium, it was announced today.

The Ulster County Office of C. Y. O. said that the Girl's Meet will be at 10 a. m. under the direction of Miss Mary Leach, C. Y. O. Girl's athletic chairman, with the Herdegen Meet scheduled for 1:30 p. m.

Competitors will be allowed to enter in two track and one field event; participants may enter in only one class; each parish may enter five participants in each event in each class; contestants must pay and entry fee of 25 cents.

In the girl's event, four girl's on each team may enter the relay; contestants should wear sneakers, and a parish may enter as many or as few girls as desired. Should even only one girl wish to enter, she may do so.

Restrictions on Relay
In the boy's event, a relay is considered as a track event and a parish may enter only one team in a relay in each class. No more than six boys may comprise a relay team; only four may run. Contestants may not wear spikes. Also, a team need not enter all events. Where even only one or two wish to enter, these will be accepted.

Participants in the girl's meet must be at the Stadium no later than 9:45 a. m. Classes for that meet are divided into those under and over 75 pounds. Contestants may not have reached their 15th birthday by the date of the meet.

In compiling results, points will be awarded on a 5-4-3-2-1 basis for the first five in each event. Gold and Silver C.Y.O. medals will be awarded to the first and second place winners. A C.Y.O. Trophy will be awarded to the winning team.

The girls' meet events included Class "A" consisting of the 40 yard dash; 75 yard run; 220 relay; running broad jump; standing broad jump; and basketball throw; and Class "B," including 50 yard dash; 75 yard run; 220 relay; running and standing broad jump, and basketball throw.

In case of rain the meet will be held at a later date.

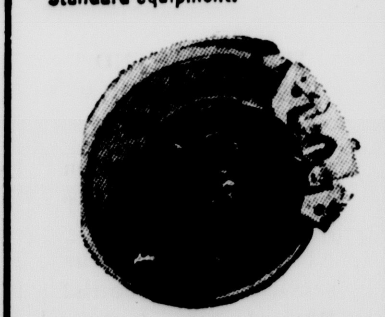

Classes Listed
Classes of competition in the Herdegen Memorial Meet include Tyro boys under five years in height and under 15 years of age; Jayvee, under 5'4" and under 15; and Varsity, under 15 and more than 5'4" in height.

In compiling results, points will be awarded on the same basis as the earlier meet. Gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded to the winners with the winning team to be awarded the Father Herdegen Memorial Trophy.

The Herdegen events: Tyro, 50 yard dash; 200 yard run; 60 yard low hurdle; 220 relay; broad

Costello Qualifies in U. S. Open Eastern Regional Round

Wiltwyck Star Has 36-Hole 145 For Fifth Place

BY CHARLES J. TIANO
(Freeman Sports Editor)

William (Buzzy) Costello of Kingston was one of six qualifiers in the U. S. National Open's Eastern New York Regional round at Schuylers Meadows in Albany Monday.

The Rider College ace carded a 36-hole total of 74-71-145 to place fifth in a field of 30 aspirants.

Another amateur, Dr. Walter Kynch Jr., a 34-year-old Fulton dentist who plays out of Oswego Country Club, led the field with 69-72-141.

The other qualifiers were: Ed Wiatt, New York Mills, 72-71-143. John Maury, Bennington, Vt., 74-70-144. Ed Kroll, Cooperstown, 73-72-145. Joe Kroll, Utica, 71-65-146.

Wins in Playoff
Joe Kroll, an unattached professional from Utica, earned sixth place after a sudden-death playoff with pro Dave Philo of Gainesville, Fla. Kroll won the spot with a par on the first play-off hole.

Costello, fresh from a successful season at Rider, was helped to his qualifying with one eagle during the day.

Next stop for the qualifiers is the Metropolitan Section Tournament at Canoe Brook, N. J. on June 8.

At Top of Game
The youthful Rider star went to Albany fresh from a successful season and is confident he can qualify for his first national championship tournament. He credited a couple of stiff workouts with Ian (Scotty) Robertson, Wiltwyck pro, with restoring the full power of his game.

Robertson and his prize protege had an extensive drill over the weekend.

"I'm hitting the ball well," said Costello after his successful bid at Albany. "I'm satisfied with my game for the first time in several weeks and am looking forward to the June 8 test."

Costello said he had fully recovered from his accident injuries of a year ago.

The Schuylers Meadows leader, Dr. Kynch is a two-time quarter finalist in the New York State Amateur Championship play. Maury, one time Albany district amateur star, made the best showing of any district participant in the U. S. Open at Washington last year.

Shrugging off a pair of double-bogey 6's, one each round—Kynch posted a 36-33-69 in the morning and followed up in the afternoon with a 34-38-72 to beat out Wiatt by two shots on the par 36-36-72 layout.

Yesterday's Stars

BATTING — Bill Freehan, Detroit, smashed two home runs, the first a grand slam that climaxed a six-run outburst in the third inning, powering the Tigers to an 8-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

PITCHING — Frank Lary, New York, pitched a one-hit shutout for eight innings, then needed relief help after allowing a run and two hits in the ninth, as the Mets completed a double-header sweep by stopping Philadelphia 4-1.

Willie Is Ready After Day's Rest

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —

Fortified by a day of rest broken only by a 90-foot walk, Willie Mays bounces back tonight into the line-up of the San Francisco Giants.

At least, that's the way manager Herman Franks has planned it for his star center fielder.

Before the season started, Franks promised his 34-year-old attraction rest when he needed it. Mays got his first day off Monday.

Mays pinch hit Monday for the pitcher with two out in the ninth inning and Tom Haller on second. He was intentionally passed, and Dick Schofield grounded out to end the game, Milwaukee winning 4-3.

With the Giants playing 21 games in 20 days starting last week, it looked to Franks like a good time to rest Mays.

Fischer Retains Jinx

The day off for the majors' leading home-run hitter almost took attention away from Hank Fischer, who continued a mysterious mastery over the Giants.

The 25-year-old right-hander had hurled only 61-3 innings before the contest and entered Candlestick Park with a glaring 10.50 earned run average.

But Fischer, who shut out the Giants twice in 1964 and who never has lost to them in four decisions, struggled through eight innings in which he gave up only six singles before he began to feel the effects of his longest 1965 stint in a most peculiar fashion.

"My fingers wouldn't straighten out in the eighth," Fischer disclosed. "I think it was rubbing the ball up so much. My forearm got all tense."

Fischer went to three-and-one on Haller in the ninth before Bobby Bragan replaced him with Billy O'Dell and then Clay Carroll.

Roger Ward Fails In Qualifying Bid

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Roger Ward, the U.S. Auto Club's all-time point leader who can't remember when he last failed to qualify for a championship race, is standing on the sidelines at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway for the first time in 15 years.

The 44-year-old Ward was the 34th-fastest qualifier when time trials for the 500-mile classic ended Sunday night. Only the top 33 cars will start the race.

"I can't remember the last time I failed to qualify for a championship race," Ward said dejectedly.

Ward, who makes his home in Indianapolis near the big 2 1/2-mile speedway, has been a recognized "500" leader for most of his 14 seasons at the brickyard. Many observers believe the record of his last six races here will be unbeatable — first in 1959 and 1962, two seconds, a third and a fourth.

Ward has an outside chance of making the race next Monday if another driver is unable to compete, but Ward said he wouldn't wish bad luck on anyone. "They earned it," he said, "and I didn't."

Callanan Nips Montafia, 1-0, in Esopus No-Hitter

Don Fisher and Marshall Kitheart combined to hurl a seven inning no-hitter as the Callanan Road Improvement Co. team nipped Charles Montafia Insurance Co., 1-0, in an Esopus Little League game.

The game's only run came in the seventh on a double by Wayne Wells and Ed Peterson's single.

Gary Leone hurled good ball for the losers. He gave up four hits in six innings. Russ McElrath pitched the seventh and was charged with the setback.

The winning hurlers combined for 10 strikeouts and three walks. Leone and McElrath had 10 whiffs and three bases on balls.

Freehan

Freehan

Belts Two For Tiger

Bill Freehan thinks like a pitcher.

If he thought like a hitter, Chicago White Sox pitching might really be in trouble.

As it was, Freehan left White Sox Manager Al Lopez' vaudeville staff in a shambles Monday night, belting two home runs, one a grand slam, as Detroit rolled to an 8-3 victory over Chicago.

Freehan's slugging helped teammate Mickey Lolich to a sixth victory of the season, if you take Lolich's word for his batterymate's catch didn't hurt the effort.

"I like working with," says Lolich, who won 18 years. "He knows my pitcher what I like to throw, and what I like to throw it. He thinks like a pitcher. And he never lets hitting interfere with his catching."

Freehan's hitting was certainly interfering with the White Sox' catching. His grand-slam homer capped a six-run rally in the third that erased an early 2-0 Chicago lead.

In the fifth inning Freehan tagged another homer, his third of the season, closing Detroit's scoring.

Elsewhere in the American League, New York thumped Cleveland 15-5 and Baltimore nipped Washington 2-1.

1st Grand Slam

Freehan's third-inning grand slam was the first career grand slam for the 23-year-old catcher in his third full season, the Tigers. Bill, a $125,000 baby, batted .300 and was on only five American League teams to reach that figure this season.

The Yankees also used long ball to batter Cleveland. Joe Pepitone ripped a grand slam homer and Tommy Tamm added a two-run shot as New York exploded for its biggest run output since August 1966.

Pepitone's shot, his eighth in the last three games, climaxed a seven-run Yankees sixth and then New York wrapped it up with four runs in the seventh as Tamm connected.

Mel Stottlemyre parlayed heavy support into his fifth victory of the season and completed a run-scoring double to 16-hit Yankee attack.

Luis Aparicio scored one and drove in the other for more's victory over the Astros. Little Luis drove in Snyder with the deciding run the seventh, rapping a long ball over Frank Howard's head.

Jim Palmer and Wally Kline combined to hurl the hitless White Sox to their fifth loss for the second victory.

The only time a nickel goes as far as it used to is when it rolls under the bed.

Some people pay so much attention to their reputation that they lose their character.

I have seen this little hand-penned sign on the wall at the R.C.A. sales and service department office in L.A. some 8 or 10 years ago, and it reads as follows:

It has been said that 25,000 Philistines have been killed by the jaw-bone of an ass, and equally as many sales have been killed by the same method.

Woman driver — one who doesn't let her right hand know what her left hand has signaled.

Traveler (on European train)— Shall I have time to get a drink? Guard—Yes, sir.

Traveler—Can you give me a guarantee that the train won't start?

Guard—Yes, I'll take one with you!

First Business Woman — Well, I must hurry home to dinner. I love a good home-cooked meal, don't you?

Second — Yes, but I'm beginning to suspect my husband's spending his afternoons in the movies. I'm positive that pudding last night came from the delicatessen.

Capitol News In Brief

WASHINGTON (AP)—A committee of 11 scientists reported Monday the "population explosion" is a crucial problem with in the United States. They urged the government to take a bigger role in promoting birth control.

The scientists called for appointment of a high-level administrator to push public and private programs. Their views were in a report to the National Academy of Sciences.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson asked Congress today for $101 million for water resources research and said predictions of possible serious shortages in the future must not come true.

Johnson asked the money for the committee on water resources research of the Federal Council of Science and Technology for use in the fiscal year starting July 1. The request compares with an estimated $75.3 million being spent for water resources research this fiscal year.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's plan to reorganize the Customs Service and eliminate 53 top jobs from political patronage went into effect today after Congress failed to block it.

A Senate move Monday to veto the plan failed 65 to 17. No vote was taken in the House.

Under the plan, the Customs Service will be reorganized with establishment of a series of regional offices. Johnson said annual savings would be $9 million.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson says civilian agencies saved $217 million the first three months of 1965 by reducing costs and improving operations.

He said this brings savings by the agencies to $500 million in the first nine months of fiscal 1965, which ends June 30. This is in addition to Defense Department savings estimated at $2.5 billion.

Flying Priest Fined $112 for Erin Mishap

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP)—Flying Father Patrick O'Kelly swung the propeller of the little plane he built and the engine started.

"The plane started to move forward," the 45-year-old priest told a magistrate Monday. "I ran around and had my hand in the cockpit when I slipped and fell."

"After hitting a bump the plane rose in the air, stalled and nose-dived."

The accident occurred at Belfast's Aldergrove Airport. The plane was a total wreck.

The magistrate fined the priest $112 on a charge of acting negligently in a manner likely to endanger an aircraft or its occupants and negligently causing danger to persons or property.

In 10 years of flying, Father O'Kelly has logged 400 hours and 35,000 miles in the air.

Little Kingston Mail Involved In Dutchess Fire

U. S. Post Office employees in Poughkeepsie were processing mail today salvaged in an early morning fire which broke out in a mail truck at Main and Rose Streets in that city.

Postmaster Henry A. Glasstetter told The Freeman that only a very small amount of mail involved in the fire affected the Kingston area.

The fire broke out about 5 this morning in a truck operated out of Albany under private contract to the postal department, by John R. Mott of Albany. Glasstetter said the truck left Albany at 2:27 a. m. and had left mail in Hudson at 3:50 before proceeding to Poughkeepsie. He said the driver had stopped for a traffic light at the street intersection when he noticed smoke in the back of the truck. He said the operator drove the truck to the nearest fire station where the blaze was extinguished.

Glasstetter said that about a dozen sacks were involved in the smoldering fire. Cause of the fire was still under investigation. The postmaster said that the morning newspapers and a quantity of registered mail were involved in the fire. He said that a considerable number of bills from the New York Telephone Company were lost, but they involved the Poughkeepsie district rather than the Kingston district.

Seek Young Man, Took $113,500 Gems at Gunpoint

EAST AURORA, N. Y. (AP)—State Police sought today a young gunman that Mrs. Alice Scobie says broke into her home and at gunpoint made her turn over jewels worth more than $100,000.

Mrs. Scobie was alone and asleep in her 16-room home when the gunman entered her bedroom early Monday, police said.

The gunman ordered Mrs. Scobie to give him valuables that included a 13-carat diamond, worth $90,000, and a $20,000 diamond bracelet she was wearing, State Police reported.

State Police estimated the total loss at $113,500 and said the man apparently entered the home, which is located back from the road, through a kitchen window.

Mrs. Scobie told troopers that after she handed the man the jewels, he demanded cash. She said she told him "the money is downstairs."

She told troopers the man, who wore a "thin dark mustache," took about $30 in cash and then fled across the grounds surrounding her home.

Slight Damage Done in Factory From Lint Fire

A fire said to have started in lint near a pressing machine at Harwin Mfg. Inc., 17 Cornell Street, caused slight damage Monday afternoon, but a brush fire earlier off Third Avenue kept firemen at the scene for some four hours.

Units from Central Station and two volunteer companies responded to the Cornell Street call at 4:40 p. m., with Chief James M. Brett and Deputy Chief Glyn M. Southard in charge. The blaze believed to have started by heat from a pipe line, had been doused by employees when firemen arrived. The one-story, brick, mercantile building is owned by Samuel Siegel, of 277 Albany Avenue.

Units from Central Station and three volunteer companies answered the call for the brush fire at 12:11 p. m. It was reported extensive and scattered in several areas. Deputy Chief Southard was in charge.

$10,000 Verdict

Dominick Baldera was awarded a $10,000 verdict Monday afternoon in Supreme Court before Justice Louis G. Brubn, in a negligence action against Alfredo Raccasi, operator of the car in which plaintiff was a passenger. The accident occurred on Route 32 south of Plattekill. The men were employed in a Newburgh restaurant, Roy L. Featherstone appeared for plaintiff and Roland Hurley and Fox for defendant. An action for automobile negligence brought by Sherman Lyons of Allgerville and Oliver Bopert of High Falls, two State Highway Department employees, against Raymond Banks was announced settled Monday. The two men were injured while working on Route 32 in the Rosendale area. Philip Korn appeared for plaintiffs and Donald D. Golling Jr., of Albany for defendant. Plaintiffs were struck by defendant's car.

Ike, Scranton Meet

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania conferred for almost an hour Monday.

It was not disclosed what the two Republicans discussed at the meeting preceding a special buffet luncheon in the governor's reception room. Eisenhower and his wife were guests of honor at the luncheon attended by more than 50 state Cabinet officers and legislative leaders from both parties and their wives.

CATHOLIC WAR VETS BREAKFAST—Among those attending the fourth annual communion breakfast of St. Ignatius Loyola Post 1769, Catholic War Veterans, Sunday at the Church of the Holy Name, are (seated l-r) Lt. Lemuel Howard of the Kingston Police Department, guest speaker; the Rev. John G. Russell, chaplain; Alderman John Machione, judge advocate who served as toastmaster, and Mrs. Machione; (standing) Commander Ben Gulnick, Bart Stuart, first vice commander and Charles Alecca, second vice commander, breakfast chairman. The breakfast, traditionally held on the Sunday preceding the Memorial Day parade, was prepared by the Mmes. Ben Gulnick, John Smith and Frank Perry. The guest speaker talked on the work being done in Ulster County by the police authorities in keeping down the dope addiction problem among teenagers. Father Russell also gave a brief message.

World News In Brief

Would Legalize Homos

LONDON (AP)—The House of Lords gave approval in principle Monday night to a bill to legalize homosexual practices in private by adult males.

The vote was 94-49 on the second reading. The main opponents were the admirals and generals in the peerage. The bill now goes to a committee which can offer detailed amendments. A similar bill is expected to be introduced soon in the House of Commons.

Must Travel to Baths

MOSCOW (AP)—Wheat farmers in the virgin lands of Kazakhstan travel by truck convoys to provincial towns every Saturday night for their weekly bath.

The newspaper Trude (Labor) said the truck columns travel 10 to 20 miles and more to haul the farmers to the public baths because there is no place to wash on their farms.

It complained that central planning authorities in Moscow for the past 10 years have cut construction funds for baths on farms out of the annual building plans.

Reds Try Copters

COLOGNE, Germany (AP)—East Germany has stationed Russian helicopters on its border with West Germany to help detect escapees.

The information office of the West German border police said the Soviet air force helicopters have been seen along the Elbe River border in northern Germany.

There have been no reports of the helicopters flying over West German territory, the announcement added.

The West German border police operate a fleet of 25 helicopters, police said.

No Feelers: Shepard

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Astronaut Alan B. Shepard says he has had no feelers from Republicans in his home state of New Hampshire to run for the U. S. Senate.

A report in the New Hampshire Sunday News said Shepard would be asked to run next year in an attempt to unseat Democratic Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre.

Library Has Free Films for Tonight

The Film Circle program at Kingston City Library today, starting at 7 p. m., will be "The Real West," starring Gary Cooper, and "Railroad: End of the Line," a documentary narrated by Chet Huntley.

"The Real West" is an hour-long feature exploration of the territory west of the Mississippi during the period from 1860 to 1890.

"Railroad: End of the Line" is a fascinating trip down the tracks of America's troubled railroad industry in its struggle to avoid nationalization.

This hour-long feature makes the journey from the early history, through the boom years, and finally the present day, when railroads are fighting what many people believe is a losing battle to keep solvent.

The film circle programs at the library are free and everyone is invited.

Boss Nearly in Tears

SHILTON, England (AP)—Eighty truck drivers today turned down a pay raise of more than $2.80 a week, saying their bosses could not afford it. They accepted 50 cents.

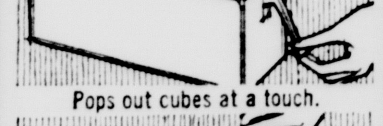

Driver Ronald Brown said, "We would rather give the firm time to build up profits than to give us a big raise right now."

"It nearly brought tears to my eyes," said John Davison, manager of the trucking company.

Davison's drivers are averaging $50.40 a week.

Stalled Car Is Struck by Train, Five Are Killed

LINCOLN, Ala. (AP)—A train slammed into a stalled car at a crossing, killing five persons — three of them children who were trapped inside the vehicle.

Coroner Clinton Perkins called the Monday night wreck one of the worst he had seen.

Killed were Clinton Groce, 33; Sarah Groce, 28; Rheta Groce, 18 months; Harriet Groce, 3; and Dolly Mae Cunningham, 2, all of Lincoln.

The coroner said Mr. and Mrs. Groce apparently were trying to take the children out of the car as the 16-car Southern Railway train struck the car.

Four other children, who had gotten out to try to help push the car off the tracks, witnessed the grinding crash.
